

Philip Murray Buried Near Coal Fields As Throngs Pay Tribute

By WILLIAM G. SMOCK

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Philip Murray, who won the title of labor's statesman and brought the CIO to its greatest strength, went to his final resting place today in the heart of the soft coal fields where he began his life's work.

High figures in government, labor and industry mixed with working men and women to fill St. Paul's Cathedral to 3,000 capacity.

President 12 Years

Murray's death Sunday in San Francisco caused a delay in the CIO's plans to open its 14th constitutional convention in Los Angeles next Monday. Murray had headed the CIO as president for 12 years.

Funeral services were conducted by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Henry A. Carlin, vicar general of the Pittsburgh Roman Catholic diocese and a boyhood friend of Murray.

Long files of saddened friends, admirers and followers trailed slowly past Murray's bier yesterday at a suburban funeral home. CIO vice presidents who conferred with Allan S. Haywood, CIO executive vice president, here yesterday decided to delay the start of the convention until Monday, Dec. 1, and move it from Los Angeles to Atlantic City.

Key Men In East

Their decision will come before the CIO Executive Board here Friday for approval. Ratification is considered a mere formality.

A union spokesman said the convention site was changed to Atlantic City because most of the organization's key personnel are now in the East attending Murray's funeral.

Since Murray also was president of the CIO-United Steelworkers, that union also must name a new president. The USW has called its 36-member Executive Board to a Pittsburgh session Saturday to outline procedure. USW Secretary-Treasurer David J. McDonald is regarded as a likely choice for president.

Dayton, Tenn., Judge Frees Himself And Party For Gambling

DAYTON, Tenn. (AP)—An investigation was scheduled today in connection with a verdict of innocent which Sessions Judge Harold Duncan gave himself and five others on gaming charges.

The investigation was ordered yesterday by Circuit Judge Alan S. Kelly of South Pittsburgh, Tenn., who said he also had revoked a order by Duncan to return 21 slot machines to the owners.

Sheriff Mack Thurman of Rhea County reported yesterday that Duncan was arrested at a poker game by his chief deputy when the deputy was sent to get a warrant for three men charged in the slot machine seizure.

Duncan had been seen at the game earlier, Thurman said.

The judge said he was "only told to come in" and was not arrested. He admitted he signed a $250 appearance bond.

"I presided at the hearing and charges against all six cited, including myself, were dismissed. The other five testified they were not playing poker but were playing rummy. They also said I was not playing," he added.

Thurman said he testified he saw all the defendants playing.

Judge Kelly said he asked the district attorney general's office to investigate both matters.

Duncan charged the raid was "political" and stemmed from his statement to the County Court that he was "going to stop the sheriff from drawing fees from the General Sessions Court."

Thurman denied both charges. "There is very little truth in it," he said.

Grandma Robs Another Bank In Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Grandma has struck again.

She got $1,212 in a Wilshire Boulevard holdup Oct. 17, and yesterday she held up the Union Bank and Trust Company on South Hill Street, getting $2,000.

The gray haired woman of about 60 handed June North, 23-year-old teller, a note reading: "Act natural. There are three guns on you. Give me all your money and give me three minutes to get away."

Democrats To Adopt GOP-Bolter Morse

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) said today Democratic senators should welcome Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon into their party caucus if he wants to come.

Morse, turning against President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower during the presidential campaign, quit the Republican party to support Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois, the Democratic nominee, and declared himself an independent.

Whether Republican senators will take reprisals against Morse in the new Senate convening Jan. 3, possibly depriving him of his present choice committee assignments, is uncertain. Morse now holds places on the Armed Services and Labor Committees.

Humphrey, a leader of the "New Deal-Fair Deal" wing of the Democratic party, told a reporter the Democrats should throw open the door to Morse.

On the other hand, Humphrey said that Democratic senators who "turn their backs on the national party ticket also ought to receive their reward"—in less preferential treatment.

The matter of reprisals against Democrats who "supported the opposition" should be considered in connection with committee assignments, Humphrey said, at the caucus of Democratic senators early next year.

Lonely Unga Island Mother Has Triplets; Six Other Children

KODIAK, Alaska (AP)—It's triplets for Mrs. Alma Rudolph lonely Unga Island, 300 miles southwest of here.

The 30-year-old mother and her babies, two girls and a boy, were doing well after a Navy doctor and plasma were flown to her. The Coast Guard reported yesterday. She was attended only by neighbor women at their birth and suffered from loss of blood and shock.

An emergency radio call sent pilots Donald Fraser, Barker, N.Y., and William Wallace, Norfolk, Va., on a flight in a Coast Guard PBV to Unga Island.

First reports from Unga were that quadruplets had been born to Mrs. Rudolph. She has six other children.

Federal Judge Arrests Postal Staff For Noise

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—U. S. District Judge Willis W. Ritter started a one-man noise abatement campaign yesterday to halt a racket in a federal building mail room which he said sounded "like a bowling alley."

To enforce his desire for quiet, the judge had Postmaster David R. Trevithick and 25 postal employees hauled into court.

To Trevithick he gave a lecture. Supervisor Francis Newman got a $100 fine, suspended, and 24 other workers were cited for contempt.

Mail Held Up

Handling of mail was held up for an hour.

All concerned promised to do their best to be quiet, but Postmaster Trevithick indicated he had some misgivings. Said he:

"My sworn obligation under the law is to move the mails as expeditiously as possible with the facilities at my disposal. The condition which all this is about has existed for 20 years and is part of the basic structure of the building."

A civil trial was in progress before Judge Ritter when the noise "like a bowling alley" came from a mail processing room directly beneath the courtroom. He directed the bailiff and deputy U. S. marshals to investigate and put a stop to the racket.

Hauled Into Court

"The noise seemed to get worse," Judge Ritter recalled later when questioning Lester E. Peterson, clerk in charge of the mail handling room which was cluttered with an accumulation of mail from Tuesday's Armistice Day holiday.

Mail handlers and supervisors were hauled into court from the work floor a few at a time until the processing of mail — and the noise — had ceased.

Peterson then explained the noise came mostly from mechanically operated doors on two freight elevators and from floor trucks with metal casters used to move the heavy mail bags about.

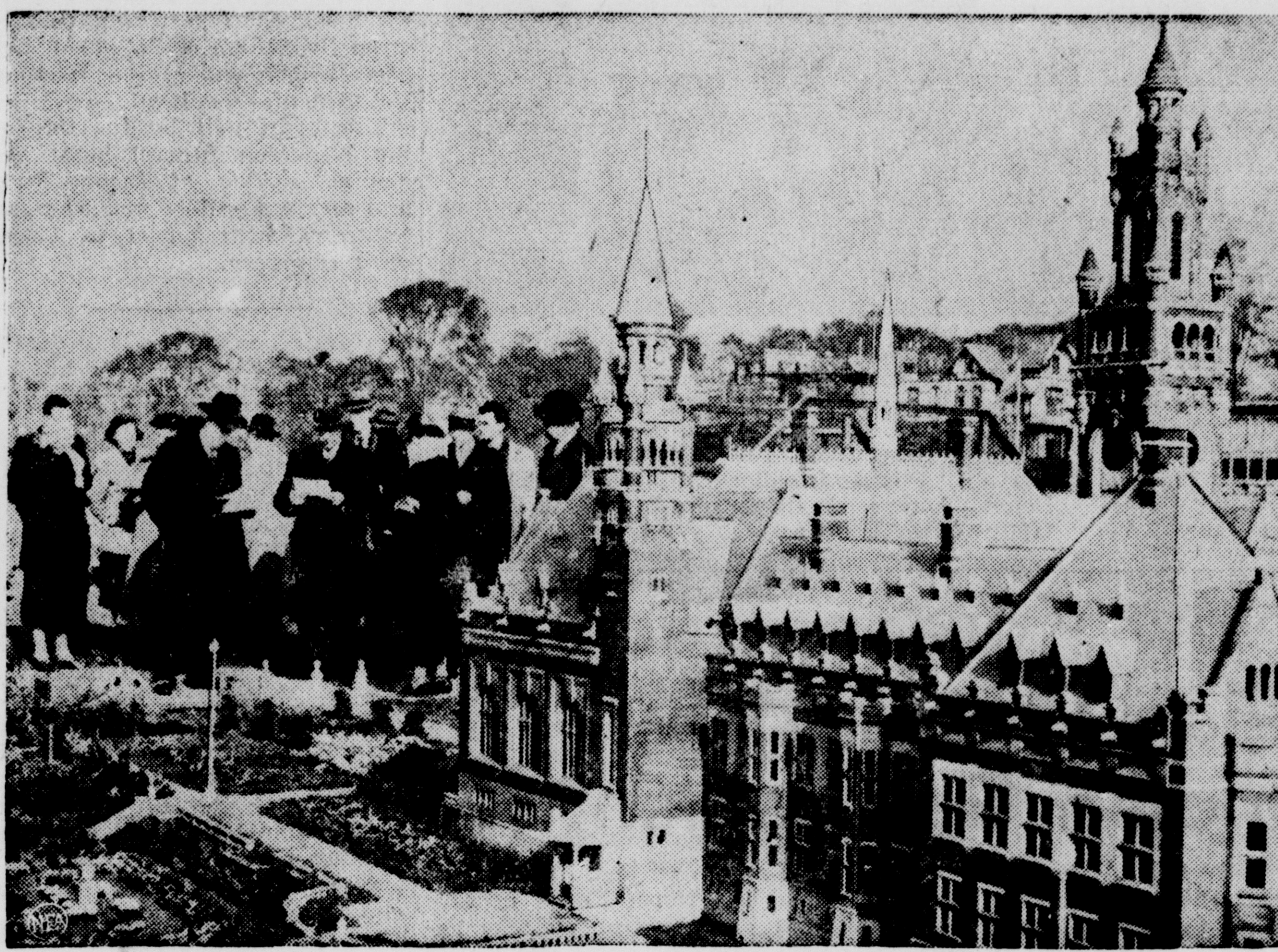

Freighters Collide Out In Lake Erie

LORAIN, O. (AP)—Two lake freighters collided in Lake Erie 26 miles northwest of Lorain early today, but there were no injuries.

Both vessels proceeded under their own power.

The bow of the Philip Minch, operated by the Kinsman Transit Co., was stove in and the George C. Crawford of the Pittsburgh Steamship division of U. S. Steel suffered damage to one side.

The Crawford was due to dock in Lorain and the Minch in Toledo.

PEACE PALACE MEMORIAL — This scale model of the Peace Palace at the Hague, has been presented to the officers of "Madurodam," a miniature city located at the Hague, Netherlands, by the Mutual Security Administration. It was erected to commemorate reconstruction efforts in Holland, participated in by the Dutch and American people. Funds for the construction of the building were supplied by the parents of George Maduro, a Dutch soldier who died while imprisoned at the infamous Dachau concentration camp. Admission fees to the miniature city are donated to the Netherlands Students' Sanitarium at Laren.

Williams Wants Ballots Guarded

DETROIT (AP)—Gov. G. Mennen Williams, still leading in Michigan's close race for governor, asked today that election officials act quickly to safeguard the state's ballot boxes.

The Democratic governor said he was acting on a state police report that "questionable" security measures were used to safeguard ballots of the Nov. 4 election in at least 38 counties.

Williams' lead over Republican Secretary of State Fred M. Alger Jr. has climbed close to the 8,000 mark. All 83 counties in Michigan, with the exception of big Wayne County, now have been officially canvassed. Wayne's canvass is expected to be completed by Monday.

The governor's lead, based on official returns from 82 counties and unofficial returns from Wayne, was 7,924. These were the totals:

Williams 1,430,407
Alger 1,422,483
State police reported finding ballot boxes kept in private garages, a gasoline service station, a milk house and even the trunk of a township clerk's car.

Liner United States Gets Blue Ribbon For Atlantic Speed Title

NEW YORK (AP)—The new liner United States has formally received the "blue ribbon" trophy emblematic of the world's trans-Atlantic speed title.

At a banquet aboard the liner last night, Britain's Duke of Sutherland turned over to United States Lines President John Franklin the five-foot high, gold and silver trophy which his country has held since 1936.

The United States made a record west-coast crossing last July 7 in three days, 10 hours and 40 minutes, shaving the Queen Mary's previous record by 10 hours and two minutes.

New Plan Proposed To Get Iran's Oil Flowing Out Again

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—State Department officials are expected to confer with President-elect Eisenhower or his representatives next week on a new formula for solving the Iranian problem.

It is understood also that the new approach is a subject for dispute between secretary of State Acheson and British Foreign Secretary Eden in their talks in New York.

Impasse Helps Communists

The central idea of the formula seems designed to get Iranian oil flowing out and money for it flowing in again at the earliest possible moment—without final settlement of the dispute between Iran and Britain over nationalization of Iran's oil industry.

State Department authorities feel that the longer the present impasse continues—and various Iranian agencies like the army and

Canadian Bank Robbers Foiled

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP)—Police of Canada and the United States sought the trail today of the two bold robbers foiled in yesterday's Walkerville bank holdup.

The bandits left behind two Halloween masks and a bagful of handcuffs used in shackling a score of bank employees.

The pair fled out a back window at the arrival of Brink's, Inc., bank money messengers.

The holdup was staged at the Walkerville branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce.

The robbers accosted a clerk as he opened the bank yesterday morning, then handcuffed additional employees as they arrived. The robbers were in the bank for approximately two hours, but fled without loot when the Brink's men arrived.

Police credited acting bank manager Stanley Clark's delay in opening the vault and inner safes for foiling the holdup.

Conference Set For Tuesday At White House

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower reportedly will steer clear of any policy commitments to President Truman when they confer at the White House.

Eisenhower associates who asked not to be named said his role at the conference will be mainly that of a listener, although they emphasized that he agrees with the President that the session will amount to a demonstration of American unity.

Hope For Unity

The White House announced yesterday that the Eisenhower-Truman meeting has been set for 2 p.m. (EST) Tuesday.

In proposing the meeting last week, the President said it would help achieve an orderly transition from the old administration to the new. He mentioned a need for discussion of world problems.

Eisenhower replied that he shared Truman's hope "that we may present to the world an American unity in basic issues."

Over the week-end, the President-elect's headquarters put out a statement which said in effect that any pre-inauguration conferences with Truman administration officials would in no way bind the President-elect as to Republican policy.

The statement was intended to (Please Turn To Page 6, Col. 7)

Trucks Pile Up In Smog; 2 Dead

CHICAGO (AP)—Two men died in flaming wreckage and a third fled to safety seconds ahead of a spectacular explosion and fire that followed the collision of three trucks on a smog-blanketed highway early today.

Fire departments from four southwestern suburbs fought more than two hours to prevent the spread of flames which seared a 200-foot radius of prairie, shot 40 feet from petcocks of the two gasoline trucks involved, and cracked the asphalt pavement.

Thick clouds forced temporary re-routing of traffic around the scene on Illinois route 88 just east of Lemont.

The survivor, William Nible, 31, of Dearborn, Mich., was uninjured. The dead tentatively were identified as Marvin Lilly, 30, and E. R. True, 26, of South Bend, Ind. Nible, driver of a tractor-trailer truck, told police one gasoline truck came up from behind him and struck the rear of his truck. The second truck then piled into the wreckage and the fire broke out.

Allies Again Pushed From Pinpoint Hill

CENTRAL FRONT, Korea. (AP)—

South Korean troops, driven from Sniper Ridge early today, charged that Chinese Communist artillery fired gas shells into their positions.

The report was without further confirmation.

SEOUL (AP)—Screaming Chinese infantrymen early today threw the Allies from Pinpoint Hill on Sniper Ridge in a furious night battle at close quarters.

Elements of two Chinese Red battalions, possibly 1,000, men, overran the central front height for the 14th time in a month of battle. They struck behind heavy artillery fire.

South Korean defenders once more were pushed south to lower heights on shell-torn Sniper Ridge. Heavy fighting still was in progress there.

Fair Makes $4406

IONIA (AP)—The Ionia Free Fair Association Wednesday reported a net profit of $4,406 on last summer's fair, compared with $16,922 in 1951. Allan M. Williams blamed the steel strike which resulted in unemployment in the Ionia area and unfavorable weather conditions for the drop in revenue.

Army Picks Up Old Documents Of MacArthur

WASHINGTON (AP)—Thirty-two packing cases of documents Gen. Douglas MacArthur had brought from Japan and stored in a Brooklyn warehouse have been transferred to Army custody in New York.

Brig. Gen. Frank Dorn, deputy chief of Army information, said yesterday the transfer took place about two weeks ago and, as far as he knew, was not the result of any political pressure.

Demands had been made that MacArthur turn the papers over to the Army after it was reported the general was retaining possession of them for writing a personal history.

Dorn, announcing the transfer, said it followed an agreement worked out "amicably" between MacArthur and Lt. Gen. Willis Crittenger, First Army commander. He said MacArthur still has access to the documents.

The Washington Times-Herald in a copyrighted article said Secretary of the Army Pace had ordered Crittenger to take over the papers.

MacArthur was not reached for immediate comment.

Chicken And Egg Prices Boosted

(By The Associated Press)

Chickens, large eggs and most fresh vegetables cost a little more in many retail food stores this week. Pork prices leveled off after weeks of declines. Lamb and citrus fruits moved lower.

Frying and broiling chickens moved up 2 to 6 cents a pound in widespread areas. Lamb was off 2 to as much as 7 cents a pound.

A note looking ahead to Thanksgiving Day menus two weeks hence: meat buyers for major chains said turkeys probably will cost 2 to 5 cents a pound less just before the holiday than they do now, and about 5 cents below last Thanksgiving. The gobbler crop is expected to set a record this year. Cranberries are reported to be somewhat less plentiful, however, and a little more expensive.

Grapefruit were a special-priced fruit featured in many stores and prices were lower. Both California and Florida oranges worked lower.

Navy Plane Plunges In Washington; All Aboard Believed Dead

SHELTON, Wash. (AP)—A Navy four-engine Privateer plane crashed on an Olympic Peninsula hillside last night, probably killing all 11 men aboard.

Through the rainy night, flares were dropped and spotlights stabbed downward as planes attempted to locate the wreckage for ground searches.

A farmer said he saw a large plane flying low and a "big flash when she hit."

Alger And Williams Leave For Florida

LANSING (AP)—While election workers are hustling to complete the canvass of Michigan's close gubernatorial election, the two men most interested will be taking a rest.

Fred M. Alger Jr., the Republican nominee, will leave Detroit today for a two-week Florida vacation.

Gov. Williams will leave Friday for Florida and the West Indies, expecting to be gone a week to 10 days.

Both Alger and Williams will be accompanied by their wives.

EHS Play Wins Plaudits Here

Drama and humor in the court room, capably presented by a large cast, won plaudits from an appreciative audience that packed Wm. Oliver auditorium last night for Escanaba High School's Dramatics and Thespian Club's presentation of "The Night of January 16th."

An "audience participation" play requiring the drawing of a jury from the audience brought the production to a happy ending with the jury's finding of "not guilty" in the trial of Karen Andre (Ruth Haven) for the murder of Bjorn Faulkner.

Miss Haven was convincing as Karen, the victim in an involved plot of murder by hoax. If she had been convicted by the jury the cast had ready a "tragic" denouement.

Parade Of Witnesses

Other leading parts in the production were played by Mary Larson as Faulkner's wife; Arni Dunathan as the prosecuting attorney; Gary Grenholm, defense attorney, who won acquittal for his client; and Bob Peterson as the judge.

Arlene Sparapani as Roberta, the "terpsichorean" from the night club side of life, won applause for her effective portrayal, as did John Praiss in the role of Larry Regan, accomplice in the murder hoax.

They and other "witnesses" called to the stand to testify brought drama and laughs to the play. Outstanding were Kathryn Welch as a Swedish housekeeper in the Faulkner penthouse, Paul Menard as Segard Junquist, Bill Gaffney as Dr. Kirkland, Bill Johnson as John Graham Whitfield, Mert Arntzen as Elmer Sweeney, Marilyn Myers as Mrs. John Hutchins, Mary Nelson as Jane Chandler, and Roy Starrin as Homer Van Fleet.

Directed By Romstad

Others in the cast included Bill LeMire as the bailiff, Peter Sabourin as clerk of the court, Mary Baker, Paula Johnston, Barbara Jensen, Beverly Brown, Tom Gregoire, Dan Sundman, Dick Hengesh and Sara Dunathan.

The three-act play was directed by John A. Romstad of the Senior High School faculty, with Maxine Bernsten and Mary Frazer student directors; Margaret Kranstover, High School art teacher was in charge of scenery; Irving Wolff, technical supervision and construction; Dennis Foltman, printing.

The audience included student groups representing dramatic clubs of Munising and Manistique, who will present the same play later in their respective communities.

Presented With Gift

Following the play, at curtain call, the cast presented a gift to Director Romstad.

Committees for the production were as follows:

Son, 37, Shoots 2 At Kalkaska

KALKASKA, Mich. (AP)—An ex-sailor whose only explanation was that he had been "receiving mysterious messages" was held on an open charge here today in the shooting of his father and a neighbor woman.

Edward Harter, 37-year-old former Merchant Marine seaman, admitted to Kalkaska County Sheriff Ira Brown that he had been drinking, but said he didn't know why he shot down his father, Fred Harter, 74, and Mrs. Mary McDonald, 61, without warning last night.

Both are in Munson Hospital, Traverse City. Harter in fair condition and Mrs. McDonald listed as critical.

After firing at his father through a window with a 22 caliber rifle, young Harter went to Mrs. McDonald's home nearby, kicked in a door and shot the woman, the sheriff said. She had started to get help when she collapsed. A motorist found her on the highway near her home.

Young Harter said he went home after the shootings and tried to help his father while waiting for officers.

Gulf Stream Fish Malady Investigated

Ft. Myers, Fla. (AP)—Scientists are setting out to determine if the acres of dead fish seen floating in the Gulf of Mexico the past few days are caused by the dread red tide.

Three marine life experts of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service flew from Galveston, Tex., to Sarasota and a laboratory ship is on the way to join them.

Reports of dead fish are similar to those in 1947 when the red tide killed tons of fish along the Florida West Coast and ruined the summer vacation season in some places. The red tide is a tiny marine organism known as dinoflagellate. Some scientists say these organisms kill fish by entering the gills and strangling them; others say they do it with poison.

New Korean Truce Plan Prepared By Indian Government

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—A authoritative Indian source said today that the Indian government is working out a new Korean truce proposal providing for the screening of prisoners by neutral nations and voluntary repatriation of the POWs.

The question of prisoner repatriation is the sole issue holding up the recessed Korean armistice talks at Panmunjom.

Under the new Indian plan as reported here, the United Nations would agree in principle that all prisoners should be sent home in keeping with the Communist interpretation of the spirit of the Geneva Convention, but Red China and North Korea in turn would agree that no prisoner actually would be sent home unless the screening showed he wanted to go.

The Indian plan envisages Communist admission that prisoners should not be forced to return home against their will and agreement to abide by the screening verdict.

The prisoners would be transferred to new camps, administered by the neutral screening nations agreed on by the combatants. This is designed to meet Communist contentions that prisoners unwilling to go home have been influenced by Nationalist Chinese and South Koreans.

The U. N. Command has denied this Red contention and said no Nationalist Chinese are being used in Korea. The Indian plan, however, would specify that Nationalist Chinese and South Koreans would not be transferred to the new camps.

Work On Water Plant Near End

The city's new water filtration plant moved into its final stages of construction this week after approximately 12 months of work on the modern $800,000 structure.

The intensive work which began on the project in June, 1951, will reach a climax next month when test runs will be made according to tentative plans of Project Engineer William Cadigan.

Almost all exterior work has been completed, with the construction crew now finishing the last interior jobs. The heating system was set in operation this week, facilitating work in now fully closed building.

Glass Panels Installed
Crews were busy today laying floor tile, installing electrical fixtures and operating equipment and applying first coats of paint.

All of the glass panels have been installed in the building, Cadigan reported.

Finishing work is being completed simultaneously in all the rooms on the first floor. Cabinets and most of the furniture for the superintendent's office and the laboratory have arrived and are being installed. Other rooms on the first floor are the filter bed room, the chemical feeding and storage room and the chlorine room, and the large vestibule.

To Reize Old Plant
After the plant is placed in operation it will be able to purify four and one-half million gallons of water per day for city residents.

Construction of the building is being financed by a $900,000 bond issue which was authorized in a special city election in 1950. The architectural firm of Conser and Townsend of Chicago was engaged to design the structure. General contracting is under the Pearson Construction Company of Benton Harbor.

The present water plant at the mouth of First Avenue South will be razed after the new plant begins operation.

Alger Hiss Parole Comes Up Friday

LEWISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Dr. George G. Killinger, chairman of the U. S. Parole Board, continued interviews with parole applicants at the Northeastern Penitentiary but with little hope of reaching the case of Alger Hiss today.

Killinger said indications were that Hiss' case would not come up before late tomorrow. Hiss, serving a five-year sentence for perjury, is eligible for parole on Nov. 21, when one-third of his term will be up.

Hiss, former State Department employee, was 48 on Tuesday. He was convicted in 1950 on the basis of his testimony that he never gave government secrets to Whitaker Chambers, admitted one-time courier for a Communist spy ring.

Need Women Workers Here

A shortage of women workers for seasonal sales jobs was reported in Delta County today by Whitney R. Dixon, manager of the Escanaba MESC office.

Only 10 women have applied at the Michigan Employment Security office for work of this type, Dixon reports. Altogether, only 66 Delta women are registered for work with the MESC.

People with sales experience, both full and part-time workers, are needed here for the Christmas season. There also is a shortage of waitresses and household help in Delta County.

The Employment Security office now is setting up a special department to handle applications from women seeking employment in the service trades. Anyone interested in seasonal saleswork or in waitress and household work are asked to contact the MESC office, 1323 Ludington street, immediately.

The shortage of women workers should give married women an excellent opportunity to augment family income for Christmas, Dixon noted this morning.

For the first time in two years, the supply of clerical help in Delta County is sufficient to supply the need, the MESC manager also reported. For along time, there was a shortage of stenographic help here, he said.

A surplus of male labor in Delta County still exists and will probably continue until spring, Dixon reports.

People Wanted Change, Says U Of M Professor

The "time for a change" psychology, the Korean crisis and Communism were the responsible, decisive issues in the 1952 election, Prof. Samuel Eldersveld of the University of Michigan asserted last night.

The political science professor, who gave the last in a series of U-M extension lectures on campaign issues, said Adlai Stevenson didn't really lose the election for the Democrats, because no other Democrat could have won either. He stated he felt the people were ready for a change in national administration.

The vote in this election was divided between the two major parties, and the minor parties received only about one per cent of the vote, Eldersveld noted. He pointed out that General MacArthur, whose name was on ballots in 19 states, polled only a "handful of votes."

Slim Congressional Majority

"Ike" created his own landslide, which was a decisive 55 per cent of the popular vote and over 80 per cent of the electoral vote, the U-M professor explained. He pointed out that ex-President Hoover had a greater percentage in the 1928 GOP landslide, and that the only "worse" Democratic electoral vote was when Al Smith lost in 1928, with only 87 electoral votes.

After noting that the Eisenhower plurality was about eight million, compared with an 11 million plurality for FDR in 1936, Prof. Eldersveld reminded listeners that Stevenson polled 26 million votes, "almost as much as any previous Democratic candidate, win or lose."

Eisenhower, he noted, did not bring a large GOP majority into the House and Senate, and in this respect the "Ike" landslide is not similar to previous landslides. "In 1952 the voters did not endorse Republican congressional leadership," Eldersveld observed.

Better Campaign Strategy

The 1952 GOP victory cannot be explained by stating "Ike" won through the women's vote, or because the voters were emotionally involved, particularly after the Nixon television and radio address, the U-M associate professor stated. Eldersveld explained that the amount of split voting in the 1952 election, evidenced by election of Democratic governors in states giving a plurality to Eisenhower, indicates "voters thought through" issues in the election.

Eisenhower's was a personal victory, the political scientist said, reminding those attending that the appeal of the "Ike" personality and his record as a war hero and efficient administrator in Europe gave the voters a "figure to produce results."

Eldersveld asserted that he felt Eisenhower's campaign strategy was superior to Stevenson's, for "Ike" gave voters his basic philosophy in addresses, and then went "whistle-stopping and hand-shaking." Stating that he personally liked the type of campaign conducted by Stevenson, the politics teacher observed that successful candidates in the United States have been those who campaigned among the people. Eisenhower visited every state except Vermont, Maine, Mississippi and Nevada, he observed.

Triumph of Conservatism?
An increased vote this time spelled victory for the Republicans, Eldersveld noted. In Michigan, there were 800,000 more voters in this election, with three-fourths of them coming from rural parts of the state. The increase in Wayne county was not as great in this election, he said, pointing out that Eisenhower rolled up a 500,000 plurality in out-state areas in Michigan.

The fact that some liberal senators were elected, the closeness of the Jenner victory in Indiana, and the decrease in McCarthy's plurality in Wisconsin indicate this election does not spell a "triumph of conservatism," the speaker declared.

The mandate in this election cannot be defined, except on submerged oil rights, Eldersveld maintained. Parties in the U. S. do not define alternatives in detail, and not all members of political parties stand for the same alternatives, he explained.

Corruption "Bipartisan"

The University professor said it is possible the "Ike" personality can win out over a conservative GOP coalition with the conservative Southern Democrats. However, he pointed out, Eisenhower may not know the ropes of politics and "may be taken in."

In closing, the lecturer declared the GOP now can "really organize" the South, for Eisenhower, whose victory was not sectional, cut deep into this area. He reminded his audience that a one-party system is "bad anywhere" and that much of the bad government in the Southland is related to the one-party structure.

During a question period which followed, Eldersveld stated he did not think the corruption in government issue was a major factor in the election. Two surveys showed that a majority of voters felt corruption in government was not necessarily mean there would be a cleanup, the U-M professor said. He recalled that the GOP won in 1924, after exposure of the Teapot Dome scandal in the Harding administration.

Escanaba's Electric Problem Is Serious; Growing Shortage Seen

UP to now the residents of Escanaba have not taken the city's electric power problem very seriously but complacency cannot prevail for long. The problem is serious and will get increasingly more serious in the months ahead.

It is understandable that the citizenry has been only mildly interested in the electric problem. After all, the city's contract with the power company still has six years to run and we have never been critically short of electric power.

Our consumption of electricity, however, has been accelerating at a terrific rate. The power company cannot guarantee to meet the load and moreover, the power company wants to get out of the electrical business as soon as it can. It is a subsidiary of the Mead Corporation and their main interest is in making paper, not selling electricity.

The problem is serious, though. Even now there is talk of curtailing non-essential usage and of discouraging Christmas holiday lighting. Even worse, there is not an electric supply sufficiently large available to provide electric power for industrial expansion.

Obviously we cannot sit back and wait six years until the city's contract with the power company expires. The problem will have to be met and solved as quickly as it possibly can be solved, particularly if the solution is in construction of a new steam generating electric plant. It takes time—lots of time—to plan an electric plant, to secure the necessary materials and to construct the plant, as well as to arrange for financing of the cost.

Many Scholarships For Local Graduates

THE Escanaba Board of Education announced this week that although the bulk of the funds in the John P. Norton estate will not be available in time for 1953 scholarships, two scholarships will be awarded to 1953 graduates.

The scholarship fund to be created from monies received from the John P. Norton estate will be known as the Anna C. Norton Scholarship Fund, in memory of Mr. Norton's wife who was a school teacher for a number of years and who had long been interested in education.

Only $600 will be available in this fund for deserving 1953 EHS graduates but in succeeding years the funds available for distribution to graduates is an aid in pursuing higher education should total in the neighborhood of $10,000 annually. Just how these funds will be distributed, how many scholarships will be created and how large each scholarship will constitute problems still to be worked out by the Board of Education.

When the Anna C. Norton scholarships attain the maximum, few cities the size of Escanaba will have the scholarship opportunities available to their graduating seniors as this city will have. The Norton scholarship fund will be the largest, but there are quite a few others, including the Catherine Bonifas scholarship fund, the H. W. Reade scholarship fund, the A. J. Young scholarship fund and several smaller scholarships.

Chinese Give Thanks, Too—For Terror

IN Red China, this is "Love Russia" month. The Chinese people have been through many ordeals since Japan went to war upon them in 1937. But perhaps they have faced no greater test than this which now confronts them.

They are being asked to make public display of affection for the country which helped saddle them with the most brutal reign of terror the Chinese have ever known. Russia's hand upon China has spelled death in roadside ditches, crushing taxes, exhausting exploitation of the "masses" they profess to champion.

For all this the Chinese must now be thankful. It's enough to strain any man's sense of etiquette.

The Doctor Says... Climate Changes May Offer Sinusitis Sufferers Some Relief

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

Every year a number of people write asking for information concerning one of mankind's most miserable afflictions—inflammation of the sinuses.

Mrs. B. says, for example, that her 19-year-old daughter is troubled with sinusitis and asks whether her daughter's skin pimples have anything to do with the sinus trouble, and whether the sinusitis is inherited. "She is a young girl," Mrs. B. says, "who should be enjoying life more than she does."

The sinus trouble does not have anything to do with this girl's pimples. The latter is most likely acne and is probably unrelated to the sinusitis. As for the second question, it can be stated that sinus trouble is not directly inherited.

Swelling of the mucous membrane which lines the sinuses lets pus and mucus secretion gather inside the sinuses and this produces pressure sensations. If the accumulated pus and mucus can be made to flow out by enlarging the opening, or can be washed out, at least temporary relief is often obtained.

The injection of drugs which shrink the mucous membrane is often helpful. This shrinking may open the passageways temporarily and thus enlarge the air space.

When the sinuses are chronically inflamed such simple measures are less likely to help. Sometimes surgery is used to make a permanent passageway for drainage. Even this, however, does not always bring relief and many people continue to complain even when a wide opening is present.

The sulfa drugs and other preparations are sometimes injected or sprayed directly into the sinuses with the purpose of killing the germs there.

In spite of everything which can be done, many people continue to suffer seriously from sinusitis and become so miserable and run-down that they consider change of climate.

Theoretically, the best climate for a person with sinusitis is one in which there is not much change in temperature between night and day. A temperature of 68 to 75 degrees with the air neither too dry nor too moist, but with a little breeze from time to time, would be ideal.

FOUR STATES BEST

Parts of Florida and southern California come close. Arizona and New Mexico, although quite different, appear to be good for some sinus sufferers. In most parts of these states, however, there is a great deal of fluctuation between day and night temperature and the air is too dry to be good for some people.

When a sufferer from sinusitis wishes to consider a change of residence it is best to try the new climate for several weeks or months before making a final decision. Otherwise many disappointments will occur.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—It's an ironic twist of fate that the first Supreme Court vacancy President Eisenhower will have to fill will probably be that of an ardent New Dealer, Justice Felix Frankfurter.

Day after tomorrow, Frankfurter has the right to retire on full salary, having then reached the age of 70. And since Frankfurter was one of the early Roosevelt men who proposed that Supreme Court justices should get off the bench at that age, it would be consistent for him to do so.

However, a strange thing has happened to Justice Frankfurter. Though he's accused by Republican critics of being an architect of the New Deal and the man who inspired the Acheson policies, actually he's become a strong Eisenhower man.

Gradually he's drifted away from the Truman administration, now has few friends left high up in government except the Secretary of State. Meanwhile, some of his old friends, such as Jack McCloy, former high commissioner for Germany, and Kenneth Royall, former secretary of war, have become Ike's strongest backers.

And with McCloy slated high on the list to be Secretary of State, Frankfurter may end up being just as close to the State Department under the Eisenhower administration as during the Truman administration.

Though Frankfurter could retire from the Supreme Court this week, private betting among the jurists is that he won't. Probably he'll remain on until after Jan. 20, when Eisenhower could appoint his successor—unless he wants to make a vacancy for his old friend and student, Dean Acheson. If so, he'll resign before January, giving Truman a chance to give Acheson an interim appointment.

BATTLING HST

The Mayflower management isn't talking, but the mysterious new apartment it's fitting up is for the ex-President of the United States.

Harry Truman will occupy it until he can find a house in old-fashioned Georgetown and until he comes back from his trip around the world.

This means the ex-President is going to be a potential thorn in the side of the Eisenhower administration for some time to come.

When Herbert Hoover left the White House he lived in New York, said little, moved about little, for a time was almost forgotten. He came to Washington only twice during the entire Roosevelt administration; in fact, didn't get back in the limelight until Truman appointed him head of a postwar food committee, later head of a commission on government reorganization. Hoover was so grateful he made a speech at the Gridiron Club in almost tearful praise of Truman.

But with the present outgoing President, things will be different. Determined to see that historians correctly view his record, HST is going to stick around. He is going to be in there pitching, correcting, battling as a private citizen to the very end.

SECRETARY OF STATE??

Those who have talked to the President-elect about cabinet posts come away with the distinct impression that he is not going to appoint John Foster Dulles as Secretary of State, and that this all-important post is more likely to go to Paul Hoffman, the Marshall Plan administrator, or John J. McCloy, former high commissioner to Germany. Both are extremely able, with competent know-how in foreign affairs.

While Dulles also has a rich foreign-affairs background, Eisenhower doesn't seem quite comfortable with him. Their relationship is similar to that of Truman and Jimmie Byrnes, who was so aggressive and had so much know-how that he sometimes overshadowed his boss.

Paul Hoffman, on the other hand, has been taken into the full favor of the Eisenhower smile. For a time Hoffman was on the outs. One of the original Ike-roaders and chairman of the Citizens for Eisenhower Committee, Hoffman soured a bit when the General embraced McCarthy and all the other isolationists. But toward the end he flew back from California and came out strong for Eisenhower.

Jack McCloy probably has the best of all backgrounds to be Secretary of State. He served as assistant Secretary of War under FDR, then head of the world bank, then took over the tough job of administering Germany, knows his European onions thoroughly.

GEOPOLITICS

Ike and advisers are plenty peeved at the top-heavy Negro vote for Stevenson. This has nothing to do with it, but there'll be no Negro member of the cabinet, as Ike once speculated. . . . there will also be no woman in the cabinet—at least not yet.

However, a woman will be put on the Social Security Board or similar welfare agency. . . . Mary Lord of New York, a co-chairman of the Citizens for Eisenhower Committee, will get a sub-cabinet post. . . . other GOP women listed for rewards are Mrs. Ivy Priest, head of the Republican women's division; Clare Boothe Luce, glamour-girl author and wife of the publisher; Mrs. Katherine Howard, national committeewoman for Massachusetts; and Oveta Culp Hobby, former head of the WACS, now a Texas publisher. . . . high on the Eisenhower job list is Ralph Cate of Oregon. . . . Gov. Sherman Adams of New Hampshire and Sen. Fred Seaton of Nebraska have made it clear they're not seeking cabinet posts. They'll serve if needed, but aren't pushing. Both have now gone home and Ike keeps asking where they are. . . . ex-Gov. Val Peterson of Nebraska is slated to be undersecretary of agriculture—if he wants the job.

Why Prison Riots?

It Was Salt In The Coffee At Jackson, Says Prison 'Lifer'

By LEW YORK

Distributed By NEA Service

JACKSON, Mich.—(NEA)—As a "lifer," I have been through two major prison riots, the uprising at Ohio State Penitentiary on April 22, 1930, and the rebellion last Spring here at Southern Michigan State Prison in Jackson.

These riots were the most costly in lives lost and property destroyed in U. S. penitentiary history.

The first was justified. The second was not. Together, they serve to point up the good and bad points of our prison system and perhaps explain the causes for succeeding riots that have occurred in several states, most recently in Illinois.

The Ohio riot resulted in 322

EDITOR'S NOTE: A wave of riots have swept U. S. prisons this year, climaxed thus far by one at Menard State Prison in Illinois. What's behind the outbreaks? Are the convicts right or wrong? In this dispatch, the second of two backgrounding the situation, a convict offers his viewpoint. Lew York is the name used by Stephen J. Schmiedl, a "lifer" at Southern Michigan State Prison, for the successful free-lance writing career he carries on from behind bars.

lives lost and more than $1,000,000 in property damage. It was one of the blackest blots on the pages of penology. But the officials in charge had asked for it.

The prison was of the fortress type, then 122 years old, with small, vermin-infested cells. All cell blocks but one were without running water and toilet facilities. There were no yard privileges, athletics or movie shows.

Half of the 4500 inmates were employed. The rest were confined to their cells for all but a few hours a day spent in an idleness. The food was unfit for human consumption.

Men were brutally clubbed, shot while locked in cells, kicked around and tortured, put upright between flat steel doors for 36 or more hours at a time, or thrown in the prison's infamous "bird cage"—a section of a cell block that lacked little of the tortures of a Spanish inquisition chamber.

The prison became a seething cauldron of hatred and dissension. Then the inevitable happened. Rebellion broke out and the spark that set it off was a match touched to a time fuse that set fire to one of the cell blocks.

If ever caged humans had justification for rising up against their inhuman keepers, we brow-beaten and cruelly-treated men who were inmates there had it.

In contrast, the riot at Southern Michigan was uncalculated. In my 20 years imprisonment here, I have found ample opportunities to rehabilitate myself. I have been encouraged in my quest for an education until I am now a selling free-lance writer and an editor of prison publications. This would never have happened at Ohio.

Cells are roomy, light and airy, with running water, electric lights and modern toilet facilities. There are yard privileges, recreation facilities weekly movies and a well-equipped educational department. Officials are firm, yet friendly.

Inmates in this prison, as in all prisons, do have grievances. Southern Michigan is greatly overcrowded and there are kinks in the parole system. But none of these grievances had anything to do with causing the recent uprising.

What did cause it was the actions of a few "exceptions"—the psychopaths, stir bugs, mental cases and incorrigibles.

I along with the majority of the prisoners did not sympathize with the rioters.

Perhaps unknown to the public, the holding of guard hostages in a detention block was an act entirely independent of the uprising that developed in the mess hall and later spread to the cell blocks.

Actual rioting began with the South Side inmates at the breakfast table. The spark that set it off was salted coffee. Who put the salt in the coffee is not known, but cops began sailing through the air in protest and the riot was on.

Mob psychology rapidly took over. Tensed, and with imagination fired by what was happening in the detention block, this segment of the prison, which included mental cases and psychopaths in 12 blocks, seized upon the chance to remain out of their cells and, as some put it, to "kick the joint over."

Before the rampage was ended, one inmate had died and several others were injured. Totally or partially destroyed were the inmate shop, gymnasium, laundry, library and tailor shop—all units which contribute to the welfare of the prisoners.

Significantly enough, it took but a week for the entire inmate body to quiet down, a fact which certainly indicated a lack of serious grievances. Prisoners who riot because of brutal treatment don't riot for less than a week. Their anger stretches into months and years until the situation is corrected or another riot breaks out.

Neither do normal, logical persons destroy their own life lines. Only the exceptions do.

It is hoped by the inmates, except, of course, the "exceptions," that the recent series of riots will not make prison officials lose faith in the value of their rehabilitation programs and discard them. Such projects are humane, progressive and aid greatly the reformation of prisoners.

No one knows this better than we inmates who are succeeding in rebuilding our mis-spent lives through the opportunities they offer.

Good Evening...

By CLINT DUNATHAN

THE MARRIED MAN—After a brief discussion with some men of our acquaintance—all married—we have come to the conclusion that the world is filled with two types of men, namely:

1—The married man, who always has problems.

2—The unmarried or bachelor type who is a butterfly in the garden of life. For the purpose of this discussion we will observe the married man only, since he is by far the most interesting. He has problems. And a man without a problem is like the hero in a novel who never meets a villain or must overcome an almost insurmountable difficulty.

Most of the difficulties of the married man, according to hearsay and some reliable witnesses, have to do with leaky faucets, broken storm windows, and other household necessities.

UNHANDY THOUGH MARRIED—For reasons not easily established, the average woman early in life comes to the conclusion that a man—any man and particularly a married man—is a handy gadget to have around the house.

The married man is presumed to know about the intricacies of what makes a toilet flush, an automobile go, the mysterious insides of electric fuse boxes and washing machines, and what makes a door knob turn and release the latch.

Likewise he is expected to know how to fix any of the above and a few besides if they should develop any hesitancy in operation. After all, a woman could do the trick with a bent hairpin. Men always have pliers, hammers, screwdrivers, saws, and other tools to assist them. Therefore they should do a better job.

MARGIN OF VICTORY—One man we know has recently conquered a leaky faucet. This has set him up to such an extent that he is almost afraid to risk his professional standing as hero of the bathroom, first class.

The leak was one of those small but annoying affairs. The previous tenant had considered it of minor consequences and to be ignored along with the electric light switch in the back hall that would not switch.

Our hero took his pipe wrench in hand and gave the tap a tentative tug. The leak continued. He tugged once more and then gave a really determined twist.

The tap opened. So did the pipe at a joint in the wall. The fixture broke off and fell into the tub.

Water spurted with all the majesty of Niagara Falls and almost as copiously. Our hero had done a good job. The faucet didn't drip any more—it poured.

MR. FIX IT—Well, the plumber came and patched up the damage as best he could. The husband got small thanks from his wife but the plumber received a fee check from the husband.

This only goes to prove that married men, like Sir Galahad, (who was not married) have the strength of ten, because their hearts are pure.

Anyway, another domesticated male readily complied when his wife asked him to fix the vacuum cleaner. Now this was one of those cleaners shaped like a sausage on wheels and guaranteed to suck the nap out of anybody's rug.

Our handy little married man took the cleaner down to his work corner in the basement and opened up its beautiful chrome skin and made some minor adjustments to its interior. He returned it to his wife and forgot about the incident.

But his wife didn't. She couldn't. For instead of inhaling, it exhaled all the time, emptying the dust bag on the living room floor.

REPAIRING IT GOOD—A truly happy home is one where all the electric gadgets work as they should. Usually they will—unless Papa decides to fix them.

Husbands have been known to make pop-up toasters pop-down, electric irons run cold instead of hot, mixers revolve in high when they are set for low, and electric outlets give off sparks and smoke instead of power.

There is one consolation in the whole picture, however, and that is that most servicemen and repairmen are men. Never knew a woman yet who went into the repair business on a grand scale with one bent hairpin and a pair of fingernail scissors.

Power With Words

By Dr. C. E. Funk

Many folks find the words pathos and bathos very confusing. They look and sound so much alike. But actually, beyond those resemblances, the two words have nothing in common except their Greek origins.

Pathos (PAY-thos, "th" as in "thin") means suffering, feeling, emotion. It is the root of such words as pathetic, sympathy, antipathy, apathy, etc. By extension, the root also means disease as in such words as pathology the study of diseases; neuropath one affected with a nervous disease; psychopath, one affected with a mental disease.

Bathos (BAY-thos), however, means depth, bottom, lowest phase. It is derived from bathys, deep. This has also given us such words as bathysphere (BATH-i-SFEER), the heavy round diving-bell in which Dr. Beebe explored the ocean depths; batholith (BATH-o-LITH), a rock believed to have formed at a great depth below the earth's surface; bathometer (BATHOM-i-ter), an instrument for measuring depths of the sea, and a few others.

Bathos was brought into our language by Alexander Pope, in 1727, by an essay that he wrote under that title. He wanted something that would supply a meaning opposite to that of hypsos, height, his notion being to write on the absurd rhetoric of some writers whose style leaps from heights to depths, from things sublime to things ridiculous. He chose bathos as the term for such an anticlimax.

If you save $1 a day from now until Christmas, you'll still be broke on December 26.

Foxes And Wolves Go Berserk With Rabies In Canada

FORT VERMILION, Alta. (U-P)—Strange tales of unusual antics by normally-shy wild animals are coming from homesteads and settlements in this area 600 miles north of Edmonton as Alberta Province battles its first epidemic of rabies.

Canadian officials have brought the outbreak among domestic animals under control and a program has been mapped out to eliminate the disease, a highly-infectious one that causes madness and death, among foxes and timber wolves.

Many cases of mad foxes and timber wolves have been reported and at least one case of a wolf attacking humans has been substantiated although there are no reports of anyone having been bitten.

No Longer Shy
Mrs. L. Gray, of Little Red River, reported that by late August a change was noticed in the character of foxes. They were no longer shy and timid but walked boldly near cabins and settlements. Soon several dogs were bitten and died of rabies.

First signs of rabies were seen

Professor Cuts Irk Out Of Work

By FRANCIS J. KELLY
WASHINGTON (U-P)—A college professor served notice on the American housewife and the African Zulu today that he is determined to help them save themselves work.

Dr. John Immer, professor of industrial management at American University here, unfolded this as part of his international plan to dispense with lost motion and thereby increase productivity and lower costs in factories, mines, stores and farms.

"Taking the irk out of work," is what they call it in England. "If the housewives get interested in work saving, their husbands haven't got a chance," Dr. Immer told a news conference.

"Give work saving five more years and there won't be even a savage Zulu who will escape the thing."

The professor, who is married, said women waste too much time doing simple things like carrying out the breakfast dishes a few cups and plates at a time. He envisioned a home of the future with a sort of crockery railroad running from the dining table to the sink. He did not explain what appeal such a device would have to folks who just eat in the kitchen.

At the very least, he suggested that homemakers acquire a wheeled tray "so they can apply the accepted industrial principle of unit loading."

Immer described work saving as developing better methods and doing work in an easier way. He said in England, where he took the idea last year, it was called "taking the irk out of work." Under his system, suggestions are invited from employees, with possible awards for work saving ideas. Close cooperation is sought between workers and their supervisors. Labor union officials are asked to take part. Manufacturers are requested to stress work saving in their advertisements.

Immer said activities already are under way along those lines in the United States, England, Holland, France, South Africa, Germany, India and Finland. He expects a further boost for his program from "Work Saving Week" which is scheduled to start next Monday.

The professor won't be here for that celebration. He is leaving today on an expense-paid trip to England and the continent, to pep up the work savers there. The Mutual Security Agency is picking up the check.

Peach Crop Declines In Midwest States

CENTRALIA, Ill. (U-P)—Big Midwest peach crops of recent years can not be brought back until new trees are grown, the Illinois Fruit Council reports.

The semi-official agency blames the 1950-51 winter kill of peach trees for declining harvests. In Illinois 1931 yielded an all-time big crop of four million bushels and its latest big year was more than two million bushels in 1949. The 1952 crop was estimated at less than one million bushels.

Bacco Bids Low On Paving Job

Bacco Construction Company of Iron Mountain was low bidder on the proposed widening and paving of US-241 and M-35 (Ludington and 23rd Street) at the intersection area in the City of Escanaba, according to bids opened here today by the State Highway Department.

Bacco's bid was $108,708.80. One other bid was submitted, that of Claude Loomis of Grand Rapids, for $113,586.40.

Bids also were opened here on 15 other Upper Peninsula highway improvement projects, including 12 for the production of gravel. A report on the other bids will not be available until tomorrow. All of the proposals will be forwarded to Lansing for the determination of low bidders and the awarding of contracts.

The project in the city includes grading and the construction of storm sewers and drainage structures, concrete curbing, and concrete pavement widening.

The improvement will extend from the Ludington-23rd Street intersection to the west, north and south. The city will make what changes are necessary in its utility lines in the area this winter, and work on the project by the contractor for the state will start next spring.

The city will pay a portion of the cost, less than $27,000, some of which will be defrayed by special assessment of properties abutting the sections of highway to be improved.

Evergreens Are Endangered By Dry Weather

Dry weather conditions necessitate watering evergreen trees before they freeze, Robert Clayton, city forester, said today.

Clayton explained that during October rainfall was only .07 inches, about 2.56 inches below normal. Rainfall in the latter part of September also was slight, he said.

Unless the trees have moisture during the winter, they will dry up and die in spring, the forester said. He explained that trees give off water in transportation, and must be able to get it through the roots.

The forester urges Escanabans with evergreens in their yards to water the trees several times this fall.

Drinks Before Dinner Lead To Alcoholism, Psychiatrist Warns

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Reporter
MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The "social drinker" who imbines two highballs every night before dinner may be in danger of becoming an incipient alcoholic, a psychiatrist from Richmond, Va., said today.

Dr. Howard R. Masters said "it has always been my belief that the normal, well-integrated individual who drinks socially will not become an alcoholic unless through disease, injury or conditioning there is some personality change for which he is not entirely responsible."

But, he told the Southern Medical Association there's a possibility that regular drinking every night before dinner can build up such a "conditioning" in a "normal social drinker."

Such an individual, he added, might establish a "conditioned reflex demand" for alcohol so that "when an environmental situation

Council Requests Opinion On City's Insurance Purchase

Escanaba City Council in special meeting today asked City Attorney Denis McGinn for an opinion concerning the legality of the city's method of purchasing insurance coverage on city properties.

The meeting was requested by the Escanaba Insurance Agents Association, which as a group co-operates in providing coverage to the city under one policy. The total premium exceeds the $500 limitation on making purchases without advertising for bids, as provided in city charter.

Art Goulais, president of the Insurance Agents Association, and other Association spokesmen, contended that insurance is a service, not a commodity, and the $500 limitation therefore does not apply.

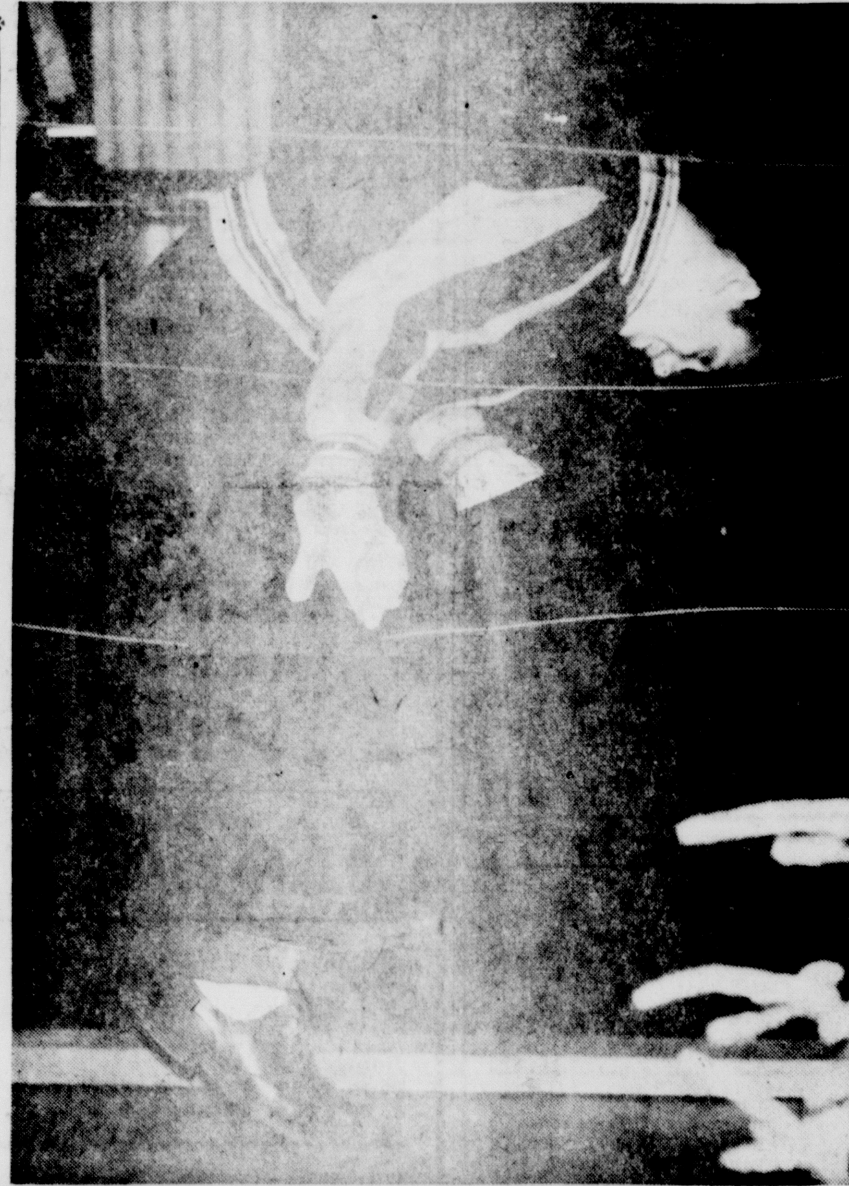

The alternative, said the agents, would be to break up the coverage into a number of policies with the premium of each below the $500 limitation. This method previously was found unsatisfactory and the Council a few years ago approved of the Association's one-policy proposal.

Mrs. Ford's Jewelry Put Up For Auction

NEW YORK (AP)—A necklace that the late Henry Ford gave his wife for Christmas 21 years ago will be placed on sale at auction here next Wednesday.

The necklace will be offered with 14 other jewelry items which Mrs. Ford, who died in 1950, had acquired. They include another necklace of diamonds and rubies with a large red stone in a pendant of cascading brilliants. The two necklaces are expected to bring $125,000 to $150,000.

The Christmas-gift necklace, of emeralds and diamonds, divides as a brooch, a pair of earrings and three bracelets.

African Racial Strife Growing

BLOEMFONTEIN, South Africa. (AP)—South Africa's Appeal Court today unanimously branded Prime Minister Daniel F. Malan's High Court of Parliament as illegal. The court's action posed new threats of grave civil strife for the racist country.

The five judges—their country's highest court until creation of the parliamentary tribunal—dismissed the government's appeal against the Supreme (lower) Court's ruling that Parliament acted unconstitutionally in setting itself up as the highest court to rule on constitutional questions.

Parliament, in which Malan's Nationalists have a small majority, took that action after the courts struck down a key law in the premier's "White supremacy" program.

The Appeal Court's action left Malan two possible courses of action:

1—He could defy the verdict and call on the High Court of Parliament to rule itself a legal body.

2—He could accept the verdict and call an early general election in which he would seek a large enough majority to re-enact his disputed race laws within the framework of the Constitution.

The nation already is torn by recurring bloodshed and violence and a Negro civil disobedience campaign against restrictive laws.

Modern Dance Club Is Formed By JHS Students

Forty students of Escanaba Junior High School met Wednesday afternoon to discuss plans for a modern dance group in the school.

Miss Anna Marie Steeps, English teacher at JHS, explained modern dances to the group and outlined plans for a program later in the year. Miss Steeps was a member of Orchestras groups while attending Oshkosh State Teachers college in Oshkosh, Wis.

The group, which will meet Wednesday after school for training by Miss Steeps, will be called a Junior Orchestras club. When members have had more training, they will become a senior Orchestras club.

Officers will be elected later. When the call for students interested in modern dance was first issued at JHS, 164 students registered. Because of the large number, the activity will be limited to ninth grade students.

No Pile-Up Of Hunters At Straits This Year

Deer hunters were crowding into the north woods today in preparation for the Saturday opening of the 16-day deer season. But unlike other years, no long waiting lines had developed at the Straits of Mackinac ferry docks.

FASTEST ANIMAL

The cheetah is the fastest animal in the world. Found in Asia and Africa, and belonging to the cat family, it is three to four feet long, lithe, graceful, easily trained, and gentle. In India and Persia, it is used for hunting antelopes and has been timed at 70 miles per hour.

Wall Street

By RICHARD FISKE

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market tried hard to gain ground today but the gains and losses remained pretty evenly mixed.

Among the exceptions on the advancing side were General Electric and Westinghouse, each of which stepped ahead around a point a times.

While the advances grew in number as the session progressed, the margin of gain continued small.

Among the gainers were Sears Roebuck, Caterpillar, Consolidated Natural Gas, American Can, Union Pacific and Nickel Plate. The losers included Anaconda, Kennecott Copper, Santa Fe, Gulf Oil and U. S. Gypsum.

operation, scotched rumors that a strike had tied up ferry operations. "No Strike"

"There is no strike, and the five department ferries are in full operation" he reported.

The ferry offices have been deluged with telephone calls inquiring about the rumor, Ziegler said. Some of the callers said they had seen signs along some of the highways saying their was a strike and the ferries had stopped running.

The Conservation Department was asking hunters to keep a sharp eye out for unauthorized "no hunting" signs on state lands. They should be reported at once to conservation officers.

Illegal Posting

In past years, individuals seeking to keep hunting on choice state lands to themselves have been known to post the land. This is illegal and subjects those responsible to heavy criminal penalties.

Upper Peninsula radio stations have again banded together to carry daily broadcasts during the deer season. The programs will carry emergency messages, weather reports and latest deer hunting information.

The annual deer hunters' roundup is scheduled for tonight in Gaylord. The sponsors seek to keep every light bulb in town burning all night. All stores will stay open and drawings and other contests are scheduled to keep the night-long carnival going.

Conference With Truman Scheduled Tuesday For Ike

make it clear, the general's associates said, that any policy decisions before inauguration day—Jan. 20—would be the responsibility of the outgoing administration.

Eisenhower reportedly feels strongly that it would be a mistake for him to deal in any other way at Tuesday's meeting—in either the international or the domestic fields. Eisenhower, meanwhile, is seeking a cross section of Republican leaders' views on the Korean War situation in advance of his trip to the war zone.

That is one of the major purposes of a series of conferences the general will hold, starting with a session at his vacation retreat here tomorrow with Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

GOP congressional leaders will be among those on Eisenhower's calling list when he returns to his New York headquarters next week.

Way To Peace

Aides said the President-elect wants to talk over the Korean problem with Dewey, and possibly some congress members, before he confers with Truman. Dewey, who will arrive here by plane about noon tomorrow, visited the Korean battlefield in 1951. Eisenhower pledged during the campaign that if elected he would go to Korea in an effort to find some way to an honorable peace.

Among those the general plans to see in New York before departing are Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, chairman of the Senate GOP policy committee, and Sen. Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin, who is slated to become chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee when the Republicans take over control of Congress in January. House leaders also will be consulted. Eisenhower plans to end his vacation Sunday or Monday.

Ruark Surveys Cabinet Talent

By ROBERT T. RUARK
NEW YORK—I do not wish to over-tax the new President with advice, figuring that he already has too many people helping him now. I would like to suggest faintly that the administration and the nation could use a good strong "No" guy in its basic cabinet structure. A "No" guy is a fellow of strong character like my Grandpa, who used to say: "When I say no, I mean no and mostly when I say yes, I mean no."

For most of the years of my reminiscent manhood, it seems to me that we have been surrounded by yes men. A yes-guy is such a fellow as fears to hurt the other fellow's feelings. This is because he is basically polite. We said yes so many times to so many people who had their hand and their schemes outstretched toward us that Uncle Sam developed a set of chronic round heels.

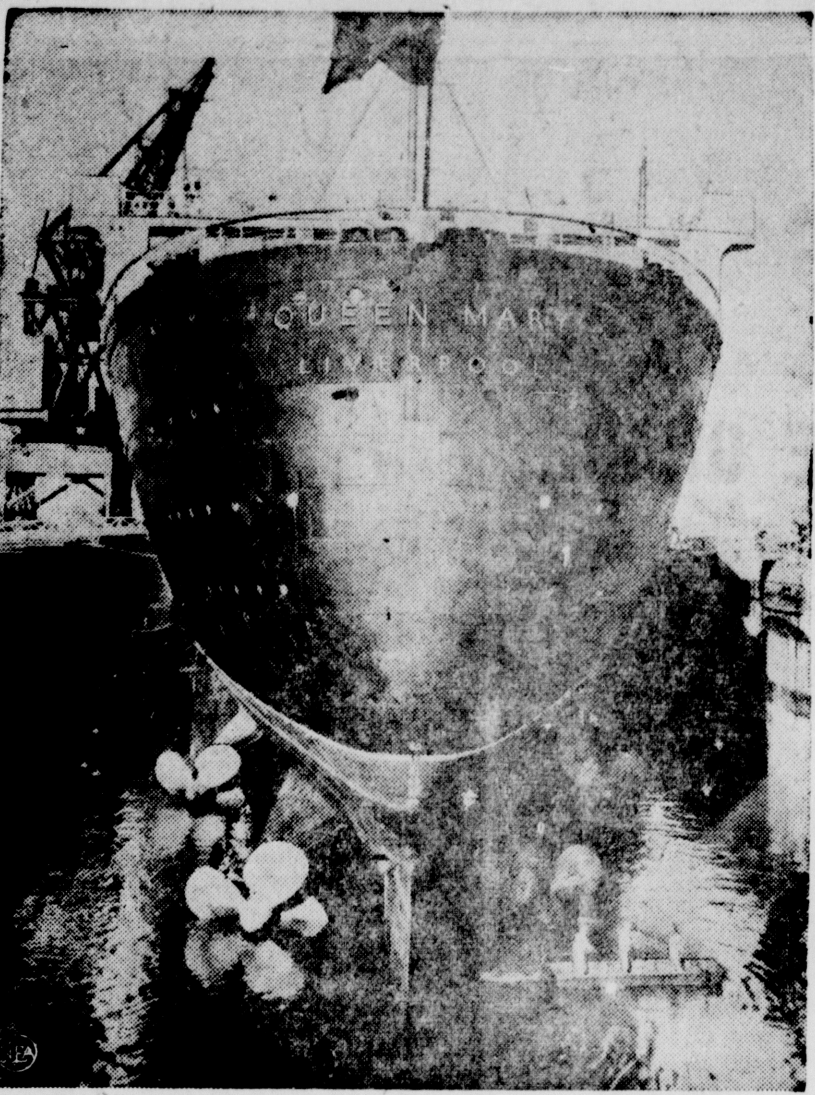

As opposed to Uncle Sam's yes-men we have had the Russian equivalent of Grandpa who said "Nyet" when actually they would have settled for "Da." As one of the strong bones of future policy, a fine firm "Nyet" bloke would be a handy sort of carpenter to have on call when the cabinet creaks from over-amiability.

Soft Words And Heads
In the last couple of years I have gained a great deal of fresh-found respect for Tom Dewey, whose electioneering personality did not qualify him for the last open date in the Presidency, but whose stern mind and singleness of purpose has grown him additional muscles in recent years. Uncle Tom has come out of the cabin as a pretty hard-boiled Joe who does not easily allow himself to be swayed from determination.

We have suffered from a sufficiency of soft heads who could be veered from stubborn intent by a few pretty words, a tear drop, or a pout. Mr. Dewey made his reputation as a pretty mean man. In recent years he has developed a jutting jaw to match the flintiness of his thought. I hope we find a way to employ him in the Presidential house, if only to keep the intellectual burglars from swiping the communal silver. Which would make him a natural as Secretary of State—complete opposite from Dean Acheson. And didn't we vote for a change?

The man I would most like to see as our counter-irritant in the United Nations would be Mr. John L. Lewis, who hates a Communist with slightly more magnificent vehemence than he hates a Capitalist who ain't doing right by his wards. I do not recommend Mr. Lewis for charm of personality or gentleness of approach to delicate diplomatic protocol. What I love about John L. is the poetical belligerence of his eyebrows and the arrogant cock of his ill-adjusted seton. These attributes run second to his unprecedented oratory, which combines fluent Shakespeare with superb invective, so that each utterance sounds profane even though uttered in a church.

Need Stubborn Joins
With the Warren Austins, and Eleanor Roosevelts, we have always been over-matched when we set them against the Gromykos and the Vyshinskys. This was largely due to a gentleness of manner which is fine at a cocktail party but counts for little in the backyard brass knucks league. We have made a fetish of the polite approach to ruffians, and our trousers have been steadily taken as a result.

RUB-A-RUB-DUB — And the three men in a "tub" are at lower right in this seldom-seen view of the Queen Mary. The giant ship is in drydock at Southampton, England, for her annual overhaul, and the cleaning crews paddle around her, scrubbing down the hull as water in the drydock is slowly lowered.

I will pit Mr. Lewis' eyebrows, profile, and sonorous command of plain oratory stubbornness against anything the Russians can provide. I will bet his flow of invective against any living man. I will match his conitratness against the world.

In the solemn council halls, when Big Jawn says "No!" and stalks majestically down the aisle, we will not need a voice of America to penetrate the curtain. They will hear him plainly in Onsk. And when he tells the happy Russian workers what he has been able to wring out of the brutal Capitalists in the way of concession and perquisite, there will be a head-long rush by the loyal comrades to get over here and share in some of the American miners' wealth.

What I would like to see in the future is a lot of hard headedness and impressive noise. I think Mr. Dewey can provide the first. History tells us that John L. has no peer in the provision of the second. So says Robert N. Walker, director of child study and guidance in the public schools here. "They like school. Their friends are there. Generally they like their teachers and want to see them again," he said.

This applies to 85 per cent of pupils, he said. His worry is with the other 15 per cent.

'Extinct' Bird Seen In Florida

WASHINGTON—In the few years since World War II, a bird long believed extinct has come back out of eternity, but another apparently has vanished forever from the face of the earth.

Both are non-flying members of the rail family. The takahe, thought to have been extinct since 1898, has been rediscovered in New Zealand, its original habitat, says the National Geographic Society.

Meanwhile, Midway Island's Laysan rails, imports from a Hawaiian islet denuded of vegetation by rabbits, reportedly have succumbed to rats brought to Midway by ships during the war. Ornithologists believe there were no survivors in Hawaii and no escapees from Midway, which would mean the end of the Laysan rail.

Rare Woodpecker Sighted
The postwar years have seen other revisions of bird records. The American ivory-billed woodpecker, believed by some to have been extinct since lumbermen went into the virgin Singer Tract in Louisiana, has been found in Florida. Authorities immediately marked out a secret, guarded, 1,000-acre reservation for this second largest woodpecker in the world.

The tiny Bachman's warbler, unreported since the mid-thirties, was twice spotted in South Carolina in 1948 and once the following year. Denizen of southern swampy forests, the bird apparently used to be common over a limited range, but dwindled to real rarity when the South's virgin forests were cut.

Another warbler—the Kirtland's—similarly persists in small numbers in Michigan. It will nest only in pinelands periodically swept by fire. Once when apprehension for its survival was expressed, authorities considered deliberate burning of forest, but lightning set a natural blaze to save the day.

The California condor barely holds its own on a reservation which cannot even be entered without special permit. Whooping cranes, tall as a man, are reported down to about 30 individuals. The cahow petrel precariously survives on Bermuda, only place it was ever known to nest.

Eskimo Curlew Gone
The far-ranging Eskimo curlew has vanished, but experts think it might one day turn up again out of the Argentine pampas or the Arctic wilds, extremes of the bird's migrations. The pure wild turkey of the northeastern United States dwindles steadily. Neurotic flamingoes, panicked by aircraft over their nesting grounds, show a tendency to leave the Bahamas. They are fairly plentiful in South America.

But the trumpeter swan, down to a few dozen individuals before the war, has made a thrilling comeback in the American West and Canada, as has the roseate spoonbill in Texas and Florida. American brant, 90 per cent of which starved when the Atlantic coast eel grass on which they fed failed some years ago, have recovered satisfactorily.

Sadly, ornithologists report there is every chance the takane, ivory bill, condor, and whooping crane will go the way of the Mauritian dodo, the great auk of the far north, the little Carolina parakeet, the teeming passenger pigeons, the Labrador duck, and the heath hen. There are so few left that even a minor natural catastrophe could spell the end.

Almost all extinct birds owe their demise to man. He killed them off himself, imported animals which destroyed them, or—more important—changed nature with his lumbering, his building, and his agriculture so that unadaptable types could not survive.

Many Changes In New Model Cars

WASHINGTON—Automobile assembly lines across the nation soon will roll out the new 1963 products of home plants in Michigan, Indiana and Wisconsin.

Annual models, says the National Geographic Society, are considerably older than assembly lines. It was in the early 1900's, when any mechanic with a lathe, drill press and large barn might go into the automobile business, that some sales genius dreamed up a new yearly model. The custom has thrived since.

The industry, always enticingly secretive about new models, has let the news leak out that 1963 will see more change and innovation than has been made in any one year for more than a decade.

More Power
Power is being increased. Some bodies will be markedly different. Power steering, power brakes and automatic transmissions will be more readily available than in the past.

General Motors' Cadillac and Ford's Lincoln plan to push their engines above 200 horsepower, but this is not entirely novel. Duesenberg had more than 200 horsepower in the supercharged, custom built luxury models more than 20 years ago. Other manufacturers also equaled or topped the 200 mark.

New bodies may attract considerable attention, and well they might, because a changeover of dies for today's stamped-part, all-steel bodies is expensive. But in an earlier day, when bodies were largely hand built over wooden frames, radical changes were comparatively common-place.

Bitter Controversy
And no matter how different some 1963 bodies may be, they can not stir the controversy caused by the first all-steel bodies, particularly those for closed cars. All steel was advertised as the greatest safety advance in the industry's history, but there was argument.

One large body maker who held to the composite of wood and steel for a short time fought for his principles—and inventories—with the slogan: "Steel alone is not enough."

The pros and cons of power braking are not likely to equal the arguments that greeted four-wheel brakes in the 1920's. Salesmen for the cars that had them said they were much safer than two-wheel brakes. Manufacturers who had not yet installed them ran large advertisements calling them dangerous.

Electric Transmissions
Automatic transmissions will get big play in the promotion of new cars, as they have since 1930. But efforts to avoid the trouble of shifting gears, with the hands or feet, are old. Several makes of automobiles—all now extinct—used electric or magnetic transmissions before 1925. Steam cars had direct drive, with no transmission at all.

Regardless of what changes are made, each manufacturer will assert he has produced his finest product, and that there is little more that can be done in the way of perfection. This, of course, is perhaps the oldest phase of the annual new model drive. As early as 1900 the Porter Motor Co., of Boston, boldly advertised its new car as "The Only Perfect Automobile!"

FOOLED THEM
The pocket gopher was pictured by early zoologists with its cheek pouches inside out, since the dead specimen used as a model was so arranged.

Smile Brings Food For Immigrant Boy

BILLINGS, Mont. (AP)—A boy's smile bought a doughnut and a glass of milk at the Billings airport.

Uwe Mahfeld, 11, stopped here on his way from Germany to Pasco, Wash., and the mother he didn't see for four years. Uwe—rhymes with movie—doesn't know a word of English, but a quick smile got him the food. It was the first time he had seen a doughnut. Student Driver Scores Hit; License Refused

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—A 35-year-old dress shop owner was taking her final driving lesson recently before getting her driving license. Everything went smoothly until she rounded a corner and the car struck the curb.

The issuing of the driver's license was postponed.

Force cranberries through food chopper using coarse blade. Add sugar and allow to stand 10 minutes. In the meantime, prepare cake mix according to instructions on the package. Stir in the chopped berries and peppermint extract. Bake according to package instructions.

Ten Unhandsomest Film Stars Listed

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — Want to know the 10 unhandsomest actors in Hollywood?

They're Broderick Crawford, Spencer Tracy, Jose Ferrer, Humphrey Bogart, Charles Laughton, William Bendix, Paul Douglas, Marlon Brando, James Cagney and Robert Ryan.

Who picked them?

Broderick Crawford.

A frank fellow, this Crawford. "These guys all have ugly mugs, myself included," he admitted. "I don't mean that we have the kind of a face that would scare children. But we're sure as heck ugly when you compare us to the pretty-boy actor in past screen history."

All Working

"And you know something?—I'm glad. The guys with ugly mugs are working. And lots of the pretty boys aren't around much any more. I remember one who was hot as a pistol when I came back to pictures from the Army. I see that boy on television now and then."

The whole thing seems to work in cycles. Back in the silent days, the flappers longed for the sleek Latin lovers like Rudolph Valentino, Ramon Novarro and Antonio Moreno. Then came the realism of the depression with mugs like James Cagney, Pat O'Brien and Edward G. Robinson. Even Clark Gable was a departure from the usual handsome leading man.

Then the trend switched back to handsome heartbeats like Tyrone Power and Robert Taylor.

"Now we're back to the mugs again," remarked Crawford. "Pictures are more realistic. The European pictures helped bring that. You see movies from Italy and England and all the actors look like real people."

"I'm not knocking the handsome guys. Lord knows, there's a place for them in this business, too. I'd look kinda silly trying to play in 'Camille.' But I think it's just as silly for Tyrone Power to come down a Western street with both guns blazing or to take on a roomful of gangsters with his bare fists."

Career Insurance

For that reason, he suggested change in his current picture, "Posse." He was supposed to have a knock-down fight with John Derek. Crawford proposed changing the battle to one with Derek's sidekick, played by Charles Bickford.

"John's a good actor, but he probably weighs 160 pounds dripping wet," said Crawford. "I'd look silly fighting him."

The actor added that being ugly is career insurance. The matinee idol starts to fall from fame when his jowls start to sag, but the actor with a homely pan can slip gracefully into character parts.

Crawford mused: "You now, Humphrey Bogart is an old pal of mine; we played in stock together. And every once in a while

Physicians Prescribe Too Much Medicine, Specialist Observes

LOS ANGELES — A doctor told the convention of General Practitioners that doctors have at the point "where we are prescribing too much medicine and doing it despite the fact we know too little about the stuff we prescribe and even less about the bodies we are treating."

Dr. William H. Gordon, Lubbock, Tex., heart specialist, made the observation yesterday. He said also that over-exploitation of medicines is increasing unreasonably the cost of medical care.

"I am convinced that all cold vaccines are worthless," Dr. Gordon said. "A large tobacco company recently proved that its employees had fewer colds when given shots of pure water than when given cold shots."

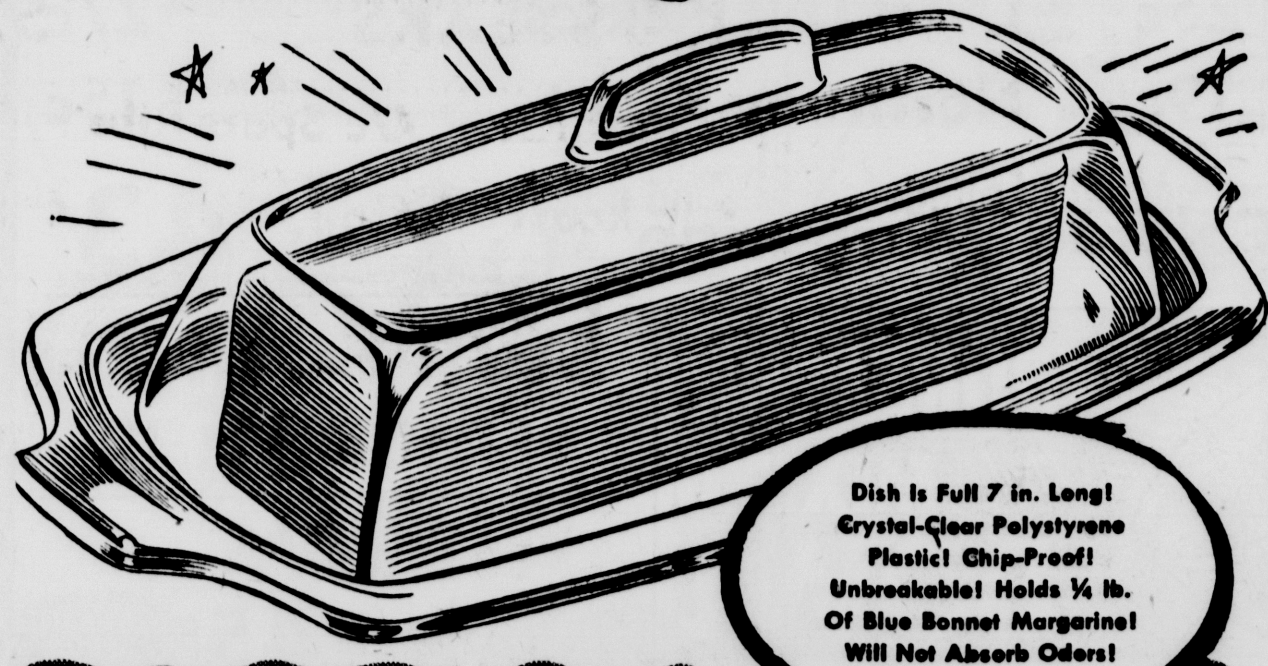

Point In Dispute

BINGHAMTON, N. Y. (AP)—The city council has a big argument. It's about how to argue about the budget. One faction wants committees to consider sections of the budget and make reports. The other faction wants the whole council to consider the whole budget.

we get together over a scotch and water or a martini and one of us says, 'Whatever happened to handsome Harry Glutz.' And then we have another drink and thank heaven that we're both ugly."

Powdered Skin May Heal Burns

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Reporter

ST. LOUIS (AP)—New skin sprinkled from a salt shaker to cover burns is a prospect raised today in a report to the National Academy of Sciences.

The skin would be quick-frozen, dried under a vacuum, then powdered and stored under vacuum. At the skin would remain alive, able to provide a living cover as a first step in skin-grafting over severe burns.

Blood vessels or other human parts might also be kept live, intact, for years by the same freezing and drying.

The possibility is foreseen in access in freeze-drying influenza virus and other tissues, and finding still alive some time later.

This work was described by Dr. Donald Greiff, professor of biology at St. Louis University. He used a specially-built apparatus to freeze the virus or tissue with dry ice and acetone, and dry it under low pressure to vaporize the liquid, operating in the project are Drs. Henry Pinkerton, Herman Blumenfeld and Masahiro Chiga.

Glycerine is a second possibility or suspended animation of living tissues kept in cold storage. It can act like an anti-freeze to preserve frozen tissues, said Drs. B. J. Luyet and P. M. Gehenio of St. Louis University.

Bathing live tissues in glycerine seems to prevent death by preventing formation of a large amount of ice crystals in tissues when they are frozen, the scientists said.

Actor Who Played Movie MP Now GI

WITH U. S. SECOND DIVISION IN KOREA (AP)—Remember the military policeman in the movie "Up Front" who was always "barbering" Joe and Willie in Italy?

Guess what he's doing now. He's in the Army for sure, and not in the movies. And he's a real barber, not a movie MP who always was giving someone a verbal hair cut.

He's Pfc. Bill Roach, West Terre Haute, Ind. He arrived in Korea last July. Asked how come he turned out to be an Army barber—instead of an MP for instance—Roach said: "That's how I paid

Absolute Zero Is Limit Of Coldness

NEW YORK—At a temperature of absolute zero, or about 460 degrees below zero, Fahrenheit, matter is as cold as it can get.

The faster the molecules of a material move, the higher is the temperature. As the material cools, these molecules show down in their motion, and at absolute zero they come to rest. Since they cannot move any more slowly than when they are standing still, absolute zero is the limit of coldness.

Japan Will Have Own 'White House'

TOKYO (AP)—Japan will soon have its own "White House" for the elected chief of state.

A two-story, white tile house, about 15 minutes drive from downtown Tokyo, will be provided for the prime minister. The house, following Western architectural styling, has a 75,000-square-foot garden and more than 14,400 square feet of floor space.

The prime minister presently lives in the house designated for Japan's foreign minister.

It is estimated that about 100 earthquakes a year are strong enough to do real damage.

Newschart, above, left, shows the relative positions of western Europe's major producers of steel, coal and electricity. Although Great Britain leads the pack at present, West Germany with the revitalized Ruhr region roaring again, is heading full-tilt towards European supremacy in these basic products. If present production rates are maintained, West Germany next year will be headed only by the United States and Russia in steel production. Newschart at right shows growth of West Germany's postwar steel production, from less than four million tons in 1946, to more than 14 million tons in 1951. The Germans estimate they'll produce 15 1/2 million tons of steel this year, 16 1/2 million in 1953, and 20 million tons a year by 1957.

Yankee Ousted In Tupelo, Miss.

TUPELO, Miss. (AP)—A 26-year-old newsman and his pretty blonde wife, under constant police guard, prepared to leave here today a few hours ahead of a 6 p.m. ultimatum set by two hooded men.

Newell Anderson, circulation manager of the Tupelo Journal, decided to return to Fargo in his native North Dakota. He told police the men took him for a wild ride in the country Monday night and roughed him up and that one of the men said he "didn't like Yankees around."

George McLean, publisher of the Journal, said Anderson began getting anonymous telephone calls more than two weeks ago telling him, "We don't like foreigners coming in here and you'd better get out of town."

Anderson and his 21-year-old wife came here Oct. 1 from Grand Forks, N.D., where he had worked on the Grand Forks Herald. They were married there last June.

D. B. Crockett, chief of police in this Northeast Mississippi town of 15,000, said he had some clues but could not disclose them now. "After he (Anderson) leaves, I think it'll blow over," Crockett said.

Canada To Develop Sub-Catcher Fleet

OTTAWA (AP)—The Royal Canadian Navy has set itself the target of becoming the anti-submarine expert of the Atlantic Pact nations.

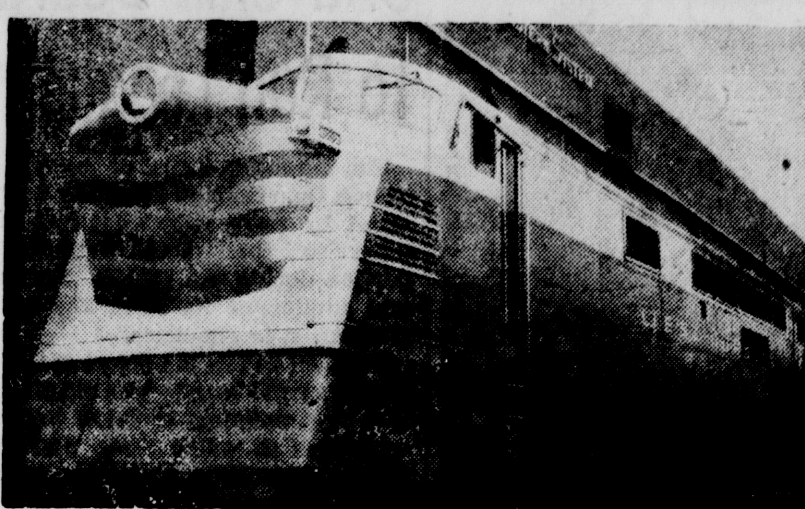

Its ambition is backed by a 250 million dollar shipbuilding program and a gradual increase in manpower. The pendulum swung heavily in favor of the submarine at the end of World War II when "schnorkel" apparatus came into service, permitting submarines to "breathe" indefinitely underwater.

The Western powers have been seeking new anti-submarine devices ever since—aware that Russia is plunging heavily on modern submarines.

Canada is staking her aspirations on a new type of ship, a $5 million dollar escort vessel, low-slung and of destroyer size. However, the 14 ordered escort vessels still are under construction in seven Canadian shipyards. The first one won't be in service until late 1953 or later.

NORTH WESTERN TESTS GAS TURBINE

This 4000-horsepower experimental gas turbine locomotive is undergoing an intensive 90-day test on the Chicago and North Western Railway. The locomotive, built by Westinghouse-Baldwin, is equipped with two gas turbines, each of which drives two electric generators which in turn supply electrical power to eight traction motors mounted on the wheel axles. The turbines operate on expanding gases created by the burning of cheap, heavy fuels in combination with compressed air. The gas turbine has fewer moving parts than a diesel and its length is approximately half that of a diesel of similar power.

Oldsters Get Rough In 'Friendly' Game

DENVER (AP)—Two oldsters were playing a "friendly" game of snooker in a local billiard parlor.

The 80-year-old player objected when his opponent wanted to lift both feet off the floor to make a difficult side pocket shot. The "younger" man, aged 77, assaulted him with a pool cue.

The older man was taken to the hospital with cuts, bruises, shock and possible skull injuries.

Ind Sulphur In Mexican Islands

WASHINGTON—A lonely cluster of uninhabited Mexican islands long forgotten in the wide Pacific will be populated by men and machines this autumn.

Islas Revilla Gigedo, four tiny islets rising abruptly from an empty sea about 370 miles west of Mexico's Pacific shore, may become the source of a treasure of olden rock—natural sulphur, almost pure, spewed centuries ago from the volcanoes that built the islands.

A Mexican government concession has been granted for large-scale mining and refining of sulphur on Socorro Island, largest member of the archipelago. Whether or not the operation proves practicable, the National Geographic Society observes, the Revilla Gigosos will lose their status as one of the few island groups untouched by man.

Lava and Ash Socorro is a single peak rising 707 feet above the sea, visible for nearly 70 miles in clear weather. Cactus, vines and a sage-like bush choke its deep ravines and crumpled lava hummocks. Strange trees grow 200 feet high on the weathered slope. Earthquakes shake the island, and steam vents roar from its peak.

San Benedicto, 32 miles north toward the tip of Baja, California; Clarion, 214 miles west of Socorro; and a jagged double pinnacle named Roca Partida midway between, constitute the other islands of the Revilla Gigosos. Far out of normal steamer lanes, their steep black cliffs are pounded by Pacific swells into intricate caves and arches framed by cascades of foam.

The islands teem with sea birds, and the nearby waters abound with fish. So many whales go to the region of the Revilla Gigosos to raise their young that whalers call that part of the ocean a "cow pasture."

Only on Socorro has fresh water been found—one of the reasons why the islands have never been successfully colonized. Because of their rare animal and plant life, however, many naturalists have visited the Revilla Gigosos. The history of their scientific exploration is studied with accounts of wrecked vessels, swamped boats hairbreadth escapes and lost collections.

The group as a whole is named for the Spanish viceroy who governed Mexico from 1746 to 1755. First discovered in 1533 by one of Cortes' captains, the islands today are part of the Mexican State of Colima.

In 1608, a gold-seeking Spaniard named Captain Martin Yanez de Armida, lured by Indian legends of a treasure buried far out to sea, found and named Socorro Island for his wife. He failed in his quest for riches, and soon departed.

In 1869, an Australian adventurer named John Smith took a small group of colonists, with cattle, sheep, and goats to Socorro. Smith died soon after, and his companions abandoned the settlement. The cattle perished, but the sheep and goats thrived. Today the island is roamed by their wild descendants.

Another colonization attempt was proposed in 1932, but it too fell through. Except for the sheep and goats, the original "balance of nature" still governs these outcroppings of lava and ash—and perhaps valuable sulphur—which stand lonely guard on Mexico's western approaches.

Repeat Performance On Italian Peninsula

TRIESTE FREE TERRITORY (P)—1st Lt. Jack C. Montgomery of Muskogee, Okla., can't seem to get away from the Italian peninsula.

In 1944, President Roosevelt presented him with the Congressional Medal of Honor for heroism on the Anzio beachhead. Montgomery then thought he'd seen the last of Italy, especially since he left the Army in 1945.

In 1950 he was recalled to active duty and sent overseas again — to Trieste.

Marie Sundblad Is Bride Saturday Of Donald Jerome Hirn

Pompoms in fall shades decorated the altars of St. Joseph's Church in Escanaba for the marriage on Saturday of Miss Marie Joan Sundblad, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Sundblad, 1411 Michigan avenue, City and Donald Jerome Hirn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hirn, 1115—5th avenue south, Escanaba. Rev. Fr. Stephen Schneider, OFM, performed the ceremony at 11 a. m.

Before the bridal party entered the church, Frank Hirn, father of the bridegroom sang Pietro Yon's "Ave Maria," and at the conclusion of the ceremony, "On This Day O Beautiful Mother" Miss Eva Cossette, church organist, accompanied Mr. Hirn.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a ballerina length gown of white satin styled with a jacket of white lace and an overskirt of tulle. Her veil of illusion was secured with a crown of seed pearls. She carried a bridal bouquet of white roses centered with a corsage of red roses.

Miss Laurel Plourd, the maid of honor, wore a shrimp colored ballerina length gown of taffeta with a tulle overskirt. A matching hat of tulle completed her costume. She carried a bouquet of white pompoms.

John Hirn served his brother as best man. Dan and David Hirn, also brothers of the bridegroom, ushered.

The bride's mother was attired in a two piece dress of fuchsia shade with navy accessories and the bridegroom's mother wore a royal blue dress with pink accessories. Each mother had a corsage of white carnations.

A wedding breakfast was served at the bride's parental home at 12:30 with a reception being held from 3 to 5.

The newlyweds are living at 324 So. 14th street, Escanaba.

Out-of-town guests were, Mrs. Bert Longtine and son, Mrs. Phoebe Pryor, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Sundblad, Mrs. Eugene Hoskins, Ishpeming and Mrs. Fritz Rosevere, Negaunee.

Mixed Doubles Winners Named

Tony Gillis and Alice Creten rolled a combined 1028 to win the mixed doubles last weekend at the Midway alleys. Second was W. S. Skellenger and Beverly Peterson with 988 while Paul Nyberg and Katie Knutsen had 959 for third. Low was made by Walter Lake and Gert Tang who had a combined 882.

Paul Nyberg's 200 was high for the evening among the men while Alice Creten rolled 188 for the best game among the women.

Six-Pound Baby Has Better Chance Than Father In Surgery

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A six-pound baby has a better chance on the operation table than his 40-year-old father.

That comes from one of the nation's leading baby surgeons, Dr. Orvar Swenson of Boston.

"A baby is a brand new mechanism," Dr. Swenson said yesterday, pooh-poohing the idea that infant surgery is dangerous. "The parts are all in fine working order. The heart is strong. The tolerance to anesthetic is excellent. And babies heal remarkably well."

"Wouldn't you rather work on a brand new car than try and repair an old wornout jalopy?" he asked pediatricians and reporters at a meeting at Los Angeles Children's Hospital.

AID IN AGING DEER—Deer hunters, planning on stopping at conservation department voluntary highway checking stations, should drop deer jaws open soon after kill is made. This may prevent possible freezing of jaw in closed position. Ralph MacMullan, Houghton Lake experiment station head, shows how jaws can be held open by straddling short, forked stick over the lower jaw with butt wedged against mouth roof. Accurate age is determined mainly by wear and number of teeth. Regular deer season runs November 15-30.

Betty J. LaCrosse Becomes Bride Of Donald J. LaCroix

Miss Betty Jane LaCrosse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adolore LaCrosse, Perkins, and Donald Joseph LaCroix, son of Mr. and Mrs. William LaCroix, 1424 Michigan avenue, Gladstone, were united in marriage at a 9 a. m. nuptial mass on Saturday, November 8, at St. Joseph Catholic Church in Perkins. Rev. Fr. Chas. Daniels was celebrant of the mass.

Chrysanthemums in fall shades decorated the church altars. The music of the mass was sung by the choir accompanied by Eunice Peterson, organist.

The bride was escorted up the white carpeted aisle on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. Her bridal gown of white Orton organza over satin was fashioned with a tight bodice with Belgium lace inserts. The full skirt formed a chapel train. Seed pearls edged her fingertip veil of illusion. She carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums centered with pink roses. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, the bridegroom's gift.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Wallace Porath, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Herbert Sundberg, sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid. They wore identical gowns of Orton organza styled with off-the-shoulder neckline, cap sleeves and bouffant skirts. Matching picture hats completed their ensembles. The maid of honor carried a bouquet of pink carnations to match the color of her gown and the bridesmaid's bouquet of yellow mums offset her blue gown.

Wallace Porath served as best man and Robert Schram, the groom's uncle, seated the guests.

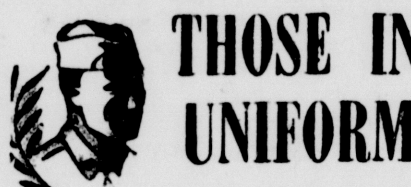

The bride's mother chose a navy dress with like accessories and the groom's mother wore a black crepe dress with matching accessories. Assorted mums formed their corsages.

A wedding breakfast was served at the groom's parental home. The wedding dinner and reception was held at the Legion hall. Over two hundred and fifty guests attended.

The newlyweds have returned from a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination and are residing at 1316½ Wisconsin avenue.

The bride is a graduate of Perkins high school and has been employed in Gladstone. The groom graduated from Gladstone high school and was in the Air Force four years, serving two years overseas.

Out of town guests were, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Schram and son Paul of Rapid River; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gregoire and sons Tom and Mike and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Schram, Escanaba; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Sundberg, Ensign; Mr. and Mrs. Philip LaCrosse, Limestone.

THOSE IN UNIFORM
Marine P. F. C. Earl W. Closs Jr., son of Earl Closs Sr. of Gladstone, arrived this week at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station hospital from the naval hospital at Valejo, Calif. Closs is recuperating from wounds he received in the Korean fighting on Oct. 1. He had been in Korea since Jan., 1952.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving and sad memory of John Marcella who lost his life one year ago today, Nov. 13, 1951: He little thought when leaving home

He would return no more, That he in death so soon would sleep And leave us here to mourn. We do not know what pain he bore.

We did not see him die. We only know he passed away And could not say goodbye. Sadly missed by His Family

Championship Roleo Awarded To Midland

The 1953 World Championship Roleo will be held at Midland, Mich., in mid-June, according to word received here from George Mathison, executive secretary-treasurer, Milwaukee. Definite dates will be sent later.

A bid of $2,000 cash prize money submitted by the Midland River Days, Inc., was approved in a mail vote by the officers and directors of the National Roleo association. Midland received 7 first place and four second place votes in the poll made recently.

The roleo association at its annual meeting in Gladstone following the 1952 roleo voted to accept bids for the 1953 event up and including Oct. 15.

Three bids were received and also an invitation from the Gladstone Chamber of Commerce to again hold the event in Gladstone. The second highest bid was $1800 offered by Priest River, Idaho, while the Junior Chamber of Commerce at Eau Claire, Wis., put in a bid of $1700.

C-C Promotion

Midland River Days is a Chamber of Commerce promotion of non-profit nature. The $2,000 prize fund is to be turned over to the National Roleo association which will set up the prize lists and handle the awarding of prizes. Competition is planned in both men's and women's divisions.

Appreciation was expressed to Gladstone by the association for its sponsorship of the roleos from 1941 through 1952.

The 1953 roleo gives promise of being outstanding in log rolling history. Birlers will compete for the largest purse ever offered and probably before the largest crowd in the history of the event. Midland is the world's greatest chemical center, home of the famed Dow Chemical Co., and located near the heart of Michigan's industrial empire.

Welfare Club Will Stress Americanism

Pursuance of the General Federation of Women's Club's policy of a rousing campaign of Americanism through new interest in local, state and national government and cooperation in all the constructive activities of the Michigan State Federation of Women's clubs was favored by the Gladstone Child's Welfare club in meeting Monday evening at the home of the George E. Kellys at South Gladstone.

The meeting was well attended. Mrs. John C. Norton Jr., was appointed the Americanism chairman and Mrs. Lorraine Murphy accepted the Religious and Morals chairmanship.

It was suggested and agreed upon by those present to exhibit the flag at all future meetings and to include the pledge of allegiance and a moral or religious message with the opening prayer.

Mrs. A. H. Miller, the club's Gerontology chairman, reported on current work and interest in Gerontology, a new science concerned with life in later years and the problems that confront persons at retirement age.

The problem of growing old had reached alarming proportions in the nation and the speaker stressed the great need for older persons to learn independence through furthering creative work.

A social meeting followed the business session. Mrs. Soren Johnson was high in bridge and Mrs. Roy Hawkins had high score in Canasta.

Mrs. Gordon Kelley was chairman of the luncheon committee other members of which included the Mesdames August Feldt, A. D. Tarris, E. H. McDonald, Roy Hawkins, Lorraine Murphy, W. A. Aasve, J. A. Bredahl, Walter Erickson, Sylvester Martin, Milton Findlay and Kate Davis and Miss Maurie McDonald.

BOSTON (AP) — Eight Associated Press newspapers today were cited by The Associated Press Managing Editors Association for outstanding membership newspaper cooperation.

The citations were announced by Coleman A. Harwell, vice president and editor of the Nashville, Tenn., Tennessean, at the opening session of the annual four-day meeting of the APMEA in the Sheraton-Plaza Hotel.

The Jackson, Mich., Citizen-Patriot was honored for the "most outstanding newspaper cooperation in the past year." The Los Angeles, Calif., Times received a citation for the "most consistent cooperation."

Honorable mention went to the San Francisco Chronicle; Jamestown, N.Y., Post-Journal; Rapid City, S.D., Journal; Long Beach, Calif., Press-Telegram; Providence, R.I., Journal-Bulletin; and the Seattle, Wash., Times.

The Jackson Citizen-Patriot was cited for its work in providing the AP with a series of pictures at the Southern Michigan Prison riot last April 22.

The Los Angeles Times citation commended the paper for getting the most membership cooperation mentions in the Weekly AP Log—22 times in 1952.

Harwell, chairman of the News-photo Study Committee, stressed that the awards were primarily for the excellent cooperation given to the AP by the members and not for the pictures alone.

"Many good pictures are provided to The Associated Press by all members," he said, "but these members have done an outstanding job of cooperating with the AP in servicing of pictures to all members of the organization."

Blind Man Has Paper Route At Cowden, Ill.

COWDEN, Ill. (AP)—One hundred and forty-two newspapers are delivered in this small town every weekday by a man who can't read them or even see his customers.

Esco Dill, 56 and blind for 18 years, makes his rounds with a German shepherd guide dog named Linda.

Each morning since June 1 they have set out with a bundle of copies of the Decatur Herald.

Dill collects on Saturdays. He keeps the accounts in his head.

He makes deliveries on Sunday, too, and on that day the itinerary of man and dog takes one of its most unusual turns.

They pass the church every weekday. But the dog never makes a move toward it.

On Sunday mornings Dill says: "Linda, let's go to church."

And Linda leads the way to the church.

In This Corner

With Roy Crandall

Don't let this mild fall fool you. Winter is nearly here and the Escanaba Hawks are well aware of it. Mark Olson, Hawks' coach, is making arrangements for a series of practices on Marquette's artificial ice in preparation for the 1952-53 campaign in the Northern Michigan League. Olson, Joe Ricci, George Petaja, Neil Sinclair, Ernie Belanger, Buddy Provo and Bummy Johnson went to Marquette Wednesday night for a skating session to get the summer kinks out. The Hawks are currently dickering with three Canadian players to bolster their lineup for a championship bid.

Upper Peninsula boxing activity is stirring for the coming season. Escanaba will again be host to the U. P. Golden Gloves championship tournament. Iron Mountain figures to have a couple of entries this year. And at Negaunee they are forming a boxing club to prepare for the GG tourney. Escanaba boys interested will be called for first workouts here as soon as a suitable training spot is located.

Note that another high school team has climbed up into Class B ranks in basketball. Munising just topped the 325 enrollment mark which is the Class B minimum. Coach Stan Whitman's Mustangs play Gladstone and St. Joe this season.

Ken Hofer, Stephenson's speedy halfback last season, is a member of the University of Wisconsin freshman squad, running from his same position. He'll see action in the annual freshman intra-squad game at Madison Saturday morning. Hofer was named to a second team berth on the all-U. P. football team last year by the U. P. Sports Writers Association.

Bothered with fumble-itis in recent games, the Green Bay Packers held secret anti-fumble practice last week in preparation for the Chicago Bears. Packers linemen formed two columns about 10 yards long and the ball carriers, one by one, ran through a two-foot-wide avenue of flailing arms slapping at the ball or pulling the carriers' arms. It paid off, too. The Packers lost just one fumble in their 41-28 victory in Chicago Sunday.

Ira Hanson Is Named Central League Head

Ira Hanson, assistant cage coach at Nahma High School, was elected president of the Central League at the annual fall basketball meeting held last night in Rapid River.

Hanson, who is also assistant grid coach at St. Joe of Escanaba, succeeds Leo Brunelle of Bark River. Harold Jokela of Rapid River was named vice president and Norman Slough of Rapid River was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Coaches and officials of the eight Central League schools laid plans for the 1952-53 season at the meeting. Represented were Nahma, Rapid River, Rock, Trenary, Perkins, Bark River, Eben and Cooks. Eben is a new league member this season.

League rules and new Michigan High School Association rules were reviewed. A Central League B-team conference was formed for this season. A B-team tournament will be staged next season. The League voted to set the 1953-54 schedules so that each team would play a minimum of eight conference games and each team would play every conference team at least once in the season.

Action in the 1952-53 season gets under way this weekend and most teams open their slates in earnest next week. Coach Babe Anderson's Nahma team is defending league champion. Nahma won the Upper Peninsula and state Class E high school crown last season.

Hayes Rallies For TKO Over DeJohn

DETROIT (AP)—Norman Hayes, who flicked the blood out of his eye and turned an apparent defeat into a technical knockout victory, day-dreamed today of the middle-weight boxing title. Hayes, 160½ pounds, of Boston, stopped Joey DeJohn, 166, Syracuse, at 1:44 minutes of the third round of last night's nationally televised fight, scheduled for ten rounds.

Girard Cinches Post In Lion's Backfield

DETROIT (AP)—Despite Doak Walker's return to form, Jug Girard remains the Detroit Lions' likely starter at left half for Sunday's Dallas Texan game and those to come.

Girard was strictly a fill-in for Walker after the latter was injured at Los Angeles in the second game of the season. Now Jug, former University of Wisconsin star and Green Bay Packer, must be considered the No. 1 left half until Walker can win back the job.

Early Prep Cage Games Are Scheduled Saturday

LANSING (AP)—The first few early birds among the sneaker-wearing thousands to come will start playing basketball in Michigan high schools this Saturday. Next week the tramp of sneakers will sound louder and by the first week in December the stampede that ends only with the annual high school basketball tournament will be well underway.

Under high school athletic association rules, schools not sponsoring football can play their first basketball game Nov. 15.

Only a few hundred class C and D schools fall in this category. The Upper Peninsula also is allowed to open its basketball season Nov. 15 even if a school does sponsor football.

Because the opening date falls on a Saturday night, only a few

Big Ten Records In Reach Of O'Connell

CHICAGO (AP)—Illinois' Tommy O'Connell, who is shattering the Big Ten's passing records, can also set a new mark for total offense.

Among the aerial records he has yet to beat are number of attempts and yards gained. He has tried 137 passes and has two games to go to beat the mark of 146 by Wisconsin's Johnny Coatta last year. O'Connell also has 78 completions, beating Coatta's mark of 76, and has gained 684 yards.

Cow Girls Trip Al's By 57-56

The Texas Cow Girls roped and branded Al's Tavern cagers with a 57-56 victory here last night before a slim crowd.

The girls from the wide open spaces trailed Al's until halftime and then crept ahead with a 19-point scoring burst in the third period. Al's was unable to overcome the lead in the final minutes.

Betty Herrmann, free throw artist, led the girls in the scoring department with 18 points. A clever ball handler and passer, the pig-tailed Miss was the key to the Cow Girls success. She was followed closely in the scoring by Betty Kenny with 16 points.

Don Lewis led Al's with 26 points on the scoreboard. Gladstone nipped Wallace 47-46 in the preliminary game.

Kircher Suspends Two Fullbacks At Washington State

PULLMAN, Wash. (AP)—Washington State football coach Alton Kircher Wednesday announced the suspension of two fullbacks.

His announcement said Jim Head and Dick (Blackie) Bower have been suspended for the rest of the season as a disciplinary measure. Exactly what brought on this action only a few days before Washington State meets California wasn't made clear. But Head said, "It was all our fault."

Some players who asked not to be named, said the suspension involved the attitude of the fullbacks toward warm-up drills during practice and followed Tuesday evening's practice session. It was reported that Kircher did not act until after a vote of senior lettermen on the squad.

Billy Cox is the only active Dodger fielder to hit better than .300 in the World Series. He batted .333, getting one hit in three trips to the plate in two games in 1949.

cuse, at 1:44 minutes of the third round of last night's nationally televised fight, scheduled for ten rounds. DeJohn was confidently boring in, trying to widen a bleeding gash over Hayes' right eye when Hayes floored him with a right to the side of the head. Hayes dropped him twice more and Referee Johnny Weber stopped the fight.

The Wisconsin star gained 1030 last year in his record drive.

O'Connell is passing for so many yards that he threatens the total offense mark—based on passing and running—of 1079 set by Minnesota's Paul Giel last year.

Should Pass Giel
If he maintains his current average against Ohio State Saturday and in the last game Nov. 22 with Northwestern, O'Connell easily should add 234 more passing yards and thus break Giel's total offense mark.

The Illinois quarterback has carried the ball 19 times and lost a total of 38 yards. These are checked off against him when he is tackled trying to pass. This leaves him a net total gain of 646 yards. 16 more than Northwestern's passer, Dick Thomas, who is second on total offense.

Michigan's Ted Kress is third, gaining 419 on the ground and 315 in the air for a 734 total.

The ball-carrying lead has switched to Wisconsin's Alan Ameche. He rushed 169 yards against Northwestern last week for a total of 434 for the season, topping Kress by 15.

Samuels Top Passer
The Big Ten statistical department reports Purdue's Dale Samuels is on top in passing. This is based mainly on his completion average of .618—47 hits out of 76 tosses—and seven touchdowns.

Rex Smith snared O'Connell's passes for a one-game record of 190 yards last week but he still is

Spartan Grid Captain Was Once Irish Frosh

By ROBERT E. VOGES

EAST LANSING (AP)—You may hear a big sigh come from the Notre Dame bench during the coin-tossing ceremony that will open the football game with Michigan State here Saturday.

The reason? Don McAuliffe, as captain, will be representing Michigan State.

And Irish Coach Frank Leahy is bound to remember that if things had gone a little different McAuliffe might be on the Notre Dame side of the field.

McAuliffe is such a fixture at Michigan State that most fans have forgotten that he once attended Notre Dame.

Right after his graduation from Chicago's Lee High School, McAuliffe, the strapping son of a Chicago patrolman, entered the 1946 freshman class at Notre Dame. He was rated as the hottest freshman prospect of the season.

The war interfered with his college career and McAuliffe entered the Navy before he could play varsity ball for the Irish.

After the war he studied briefly at the Naval Academy but decided against the life of a seaman and transferred to Michigan State.

In Background
In 1950, his first year of eligibility with the Spartans, McAuliffe was overshadowed by All-American Sonny Grandelius. Last year McAuliffe came into his own as he was the leading rusher for MSC with 566 net yards and top scorer with nine touchdowns.

This year McAuliffe is second in the rushing department with 433 yards on 72 carries—better than six yards a try—and is tied for scoring honors with seven touchdowns.

In the starting backfield lineup for Michigan State will be four men who have accounted for more than two thirds of the 3,088 yards made as far this season—the best offense in the country.

Wells Has 461
Quarterback Tom Yewcic has accounted for 958 yards so far this season, mostly with his passing.

McAuliffe' total offense, with one pass added to his rushing yardage, is 472 yards. Billy Wells, his running mate at halfback, has made 461 yards. And Evan Slonek, the probable starting fullback, has gone for 254 yards.

These four starters alone have 2,140 yards to their credit—which gives an inkling of the problem that will face the Notre Dame defense as soon as McAuliffe finishes flipping that coin Saturday.

New Rules For NCAA Cage Meet

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic Association today announced plans to increase the number of teams for its basketball tournament and at the same time shorten the season and reduce postseason competition.

The announcement came jointly from Walter Byers, NCAA executive director, and Arthur Dutch Lonberg, University of Kansas athletic director, and chairman of the NCAA basketball tournament committee.

Tentative plans would:
"1. Advance the date of the tournament by one week. Regional games for 1953 would be held March 13-14 and the finals March 17-18.

"2. Limit eligibility for the NCAA tournament each year to teams which compete in no other tournament after the close of their regularly scheduled playing season.

"3. Increase the number of conferences now 10 whose championships will automatically qualify for the tournament.

"4. x x Expand the tournament bracket to enable more member institutions to qualify for the tournament."

Gladstone Braves, Coach Of Year To Be Honored Tonight

GLADSTONE — The 1952 Braves and Coach Harry Monson of Iron River will be honored at the 30th annual Gladstone Rotary Club recognition banquet at the high school here tonight.

Monson, former Escanaban, was named Coach of the Year at the recent meeting of the Upper Peninsula Sports Writers Association. The Iron River mentor had piloted his Redskins to their second undefeated, untied season in three years.

Coach Don Pfothbauer will introduce the Braves who the past season posted five wins in seven starts. Martin Becker, Gladstone end, was named to the All-U. P. first team following his season's play.

Spieser Wins, Will Get Main Event Shot

DETROIT (AP)—Chuck Spieser, the still-unbeaten pro from Michigan State College, will fight in his first full-scale main event next Tuesday at Grand Rapids. Spieser decided Bobby Yore of Chicago last night in an eight-round semi-final bout at Olympic Stadium.

He now moves to the main event class and will face Murray Burnett of Chicago at Grand Rapids stadium in an eight-rounder. Spieser took every round from Yore and opened cuts around both eyes. Spieser weighed 177 and Yore 176.

Jed Black another Michigan Stater turned pro, stopped Billy Van Gilder, of Ithaca, N. Y., in the second round. Van Gilder weighed 151 and Black 149.

Broadway Clowns Invade Hermansville On Friday

HERMANSVILLE — The New York Broadway Clowns invade the Community Center gym Friday night to tangle with the Rodman Bar Foxes in an 8:30 clash. The Clowns are rated one of the best of the traveling basketball teams and are booked for a number of stops in the Upper Peninsula.

Accompanying the team this year is "King Tut," who puts on a comedy halftime show.

Rodman's team will be at full strength for the exhibition clash with a sprinkling of newcomers added this year to the regulars of past seasons.

In the accompanying picture is lanky Ralph Sealy, veteran member of the Clowns who is rated one of the best exhibitionists in basketball.

Sealy and the Clowns are rated experts at trick ball handling and passing.

Al's Tavern of Escanaba will play the preliminary game against the Wallace city team.

Davenport Only Doubtful Team In 3-1 League

CHICAGO (AP)—With the possible exception of Davenport, Ia., all other teams in the class B Three I League are reported ready to go in the 1953 baseball season.

The question of Davenport probably will be aired today when Three I League officials open their annual meeting.

Davenport is trying to replace a big league affiliation it had with the Detroit Tigers in 1952 and will be asked to guarantee its 1953 operation.

Other members are Evansville, Ind., Terre Haute, Ind., Quincy, Ill., Keokuk, Ia., Burlington, Ia., Waterloo, Ia., and Cedar Rapids, Ia.

The election of 1953 officers will be first on the agenda. Hal Totten of Cedar Rapids is the current president and V. R. Vern McMillan of Terre Haute is vice president.

Officials also are expected to act on a proposal to expand the 126-game schedule and to debate whether home teams should share receipts with visiting teams.

In 1891 two West Virginia University seniors collected $160 and bought 11 football uniforms. That's how the school got its start on the gridiron.

Big Seven Teams Barred From Games

Slim Pickings For Bowls

By ORLO ROBERTSON
NEW YORK (AP) — The football bowl pickings are getting slimmer and slimmer as the deadline nears for the selection of the representatives in the post-season gridiron classics.

Another conference bowed out of the picture officially last night when the faculty committee of the Big Seven ruled to abide by the circuit's present rule which prohibits any post-season competition.

That action put a quietus on reports that Oklahoma and possibly some other members of the conference would seek permission to play on New Year's Day. Once-beaten Oklahoma had been mentioned as a possible participant in the Sugar, Cotton and Orange Bowls.

Rose Bowl Set

As the situation now stands only the Rose Bowl is definitely set with the Pacific Coast Conference winner, probably Southern California or U.C.L.A., opposing the Big 10 champion.

The Cotton Bowl is sure of the Southwest Conference titleholder as the host team. Right now Texas is in line for that honor. Georgia Tech, powerhouse of the Southeastern League has accepted an invitation to play in the Sugar Bowl.

If Florida gets past Tennessee Saturday, then the Gators can look for an Orange Bowl bid. They have lost to Vanderbilt and Georgia Tech but only by a combined margin of 10 points. The Vols of Tennessee, with a 6-1 record, also have eyes on one of the major bowls.

Mississippi, another member of the Southeastern Conference, likewise is looking bowlward but the Rebels have a Saturday engagement with powerful Maryland. The Terrapins themselves would like very much to travel to the sunny climes on Jan. 1 but they are on probation for playing in the Sugar Bowl last New Year's Day and are not likely to risk additional punishment by the Southern Conference.

Slim Pickings

Even the pickings among the independents are not plentiful. Without attempting to list them in order of possible preference the leading eligibles include Pittsburgh, Syracuse and Holy Cross and possibly Villanova — all Eastern outfits.

Pittsburgh has defeats by Oklahoma and West Virginia on the wrong side. Syracuse has dropped two, one to Bowling Field and the other to No. 1 ranked Michigan State. Holy Cross has lost only to Syracuse but has not played an impressive schedule. Villanova definitely was in running until smothered 42-6 last week by Tulsa.

No Changes In PGA Golf Rules

CHICAGO (AP) — The Professional Golfers Association of America has ended its annual convention in apparent harmony.

There was a minimum of friction yesterday when the PGA rejected, by a 46-7 vote, a proposal to change the pattern of play on its national tournament, to be held in 1953 at Birmingham, Mich., July 1-7. A spokesman previously had said this would be a tough obstacle. Behind the scenes lobbying apparently was effective.

The proposal would change the meet to four days of medal play with the 15 best scorers, plus the defending champion, then entering three days of match play for the title.

Delegates, consisting mainly of club pros, killed the proposal for the second straight year. This keeps the meet the same as it has been for 36 years—strictly match play after two days of qualifying to determine a 64-man field.

The PGA authorized shifting the national headquarters from Chicago to Dunedin, Fla., where the group has its national course. Final decision on such a move will be made by the PGA's executive committee.

Baseball Boss Puts Rivera On Probation

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ

NEW YORK (AP)—Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick used the velvet fist treatment in placing Jim Rivera, Chicago White Sox rookie, on indefinite probation.

Baseball's boss could have barred the 29-year-old New York-born Puerto Rican from baseball, but instead he put the speedy outfielder on probation yesterday and warned him that if he failed to "toe the line" he would be banished permanently.

Rivera was cleared by the Cook County (Ill.) Grand Jury on a rape charge last month, but Frick maintained the Sox outfielder is guilty of "a certain type of moral delinquency."

Frick, in handing down his decision said that he "could not place himself in the position of going over the heads of an American jury."

The Chicago White Sox will be held responsible for Rivera's actions on and off the field and will have to submit a report to Frick's office if the controversial outfielder misbehaves in any way.

The commissioner also prohibited the Chicago club from transferring the player's contract for a period of one year and the only way the White Sox can dispose of him is by voluntary retirement or suspension.

"The commissioner recognizes, as does the Chicago American League club," Frick said, "that they have an obligation to the public to maintain the highest possible standards of morality among all men who are connected with the game."

Was In Prison

The White Sox player was sentenced to prison on a rape charge while he was serving in the Army. Last Sept. 28 he was charged with raping a 22-year-old married woman in Chicago. Rivera admitted being intimate with the woman but denied using force.

In Chicago, Mrs. Grace Comiskey, president of the White Sox, said she was delighted over the commissioner's ruling.

William Harridge, president of the American League, said he was in complete accord with Frick's decision.

Claassen Sticks To Spartans Saturday

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

NEW YORK (AP)—Football selections made on Nov. 13 simply can not be any better or any worse than those made on Nov. 31. So here comes this week's picks:

Michigan state over Notre Dame: A duel that compares with last week's Notre Dame-Oklahoma affair but this time the Irish appear doomed.

Maryland over Mississippi: The Mississippians will work a minor miracle if they get a tie against Jack Scarbath & Company.

TV Attraction

Georgia Tech over Alabama: Your afternoon TV attraction. Tech's Turner and Texas are Dixie's modern Blanchard and Davis, of Army's wartime teams.

Oklahoma over Missouri: The Sooners to take out their anger on Missouri for last Saturday's defeat at Notre Dame.

Southern California over Washington: Washington has stolen quietly in the Coast Conference title race but its exit will be noisy even though Don Heinrich's passes will annoy the Trojans.

Tennessee over Florida: The 'Gators have primed for this one since the season started but the odds are against them.

Shaky Michigan

Texas over Texas Christian: Texas has in T. Jones the conference's best passer, in Dick Ochoa the loop's best ground-gainer, in Gib Dawson the leading scorer and in Tom Stohlanske the leading pass receiver. That's too much for TCU.

Michigan over Purdue: A close one. Purdue never has beaten Michigan at Ann Arbor and here's a shaky vote the jinx will hold.

Syracuse over Colgate: Syracuse is bowl hungry.

Princeton over Yale: Yale is the surprise team of the East but this time it gets the surprise.

Duke over Wake Forest: Duke to rebound after a pair of stinging rebukes.

The others:

Friday Night

George Washington over Davidson, Tulsa over Detroit.

Saturday

East: Penn over Army, Navy over Columbia, Syracuse over Colgate, Dartmouth over Cornell, Fordham over Temple, Harvard over Brown, Pittsburgh over North Carolina State, Penn State over Rutgers.

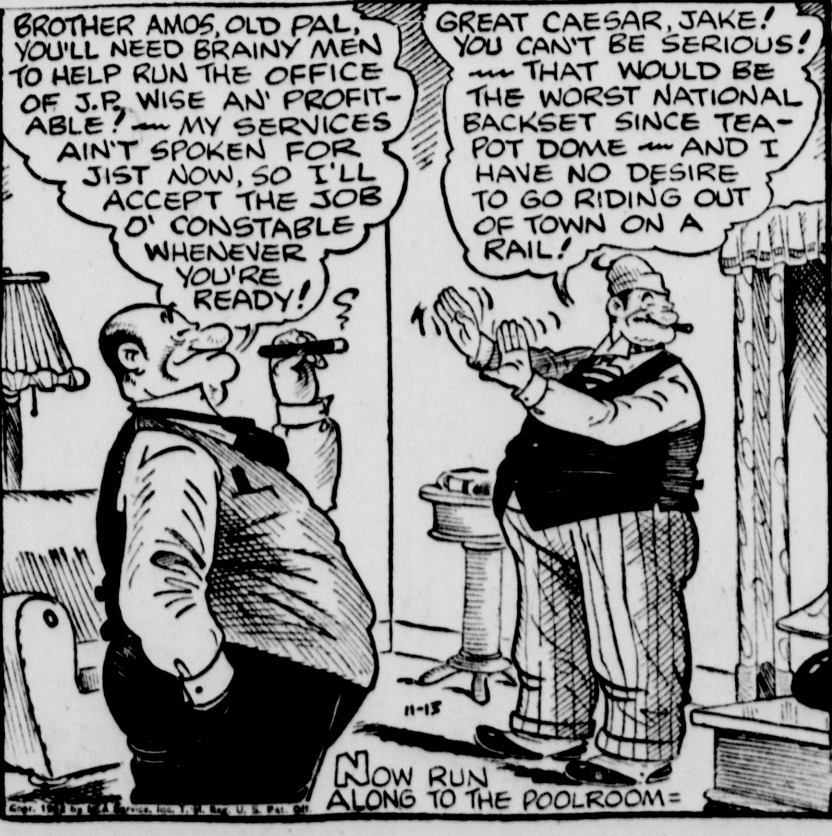

Midwest: Northwestern over Iowa, Colorado over Kansas State, Nebraska over Minnesota, Illinois over Ohio State, Kansas over Oklahoma A & M, Wisconsin over Indiana, Wichita over Drake.

South: Kentucky over Clemson, Tennessee over Florida, South Carolina over North Carolina, Vanderbilt over Tulane.

Southwest: Baylor over Houston, Texas A & M over Rice, Southern Methodist over Arkansas.

Far West: Idaho over Oregon State, Stanford over Oregon, California over Washington State.

Spartans Defending Champions In Big 10 Cross Country Meet

CHICAGO (AP) — Cross-country teams from Michigan State and Michigan Normal colleges are expected to shine in a "double-header" championship meet at Washington Park Friday.

The Spartans are defending champions in the 38th annual Big Ten cross-country meet over the four-mile course. All Western Conference schools except Northwestern and Ohio State are entered.

After the Big Ten competition will come the Central Collegiate Conference title chase, with Michigan Normal, Notre Dame, Marquette and Drake expected to battle it out for the crown.

Dallas Texans Fold In Pro Grid League

DALLAS (AP) — Dallas was without professional football today just 11 months after it brought in a franchise with fanfare and ballyhoo that said the game couldn't miss in big, free-spending Texas.

The Dallas Texans, who lost seven games out of seven and almost a quarter of a million dollars, were orphaned yesterday when the 16 stockholders turned the franchise back to the National Football League. The Texans become a "road club" and play no more games in Dallas.

Coupled with the announcement that the Texans were quitting with a little more than half the season completed was the statement that a bid would be made to buy the club back when it came up for disposal probably next month.

Financial aid was obtained with a group of moneyed men willing to take over and operate on a three-year basis but John Coyle, one of the Texans trustees, said "interim financing" could not be obtained. He explained that the

Secrecy Veils Irish Practice

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Secrecy has veiled Notre Dame's football practices this week as the Irish test new plays and defensive patterns to spring on Michigan State's undefeated Spartans Saturday.

After topping Oklahoma from the unbeaten ranks last week, the feverish Irish now level off against the nation's No. 1 ranked team. The Spartans own a 22-game winning streak and currently are averaging 44.1 yards per game, the country's best offense.

Notre Dame—a 13-point underdog—will be seeking its first decision over the Spartans in three years after losing 36-33 in 1950 and being thumped 35-0 last year for the worst defeat ever handed Coach Frank Leahy's Irish.

Can the Irish—ranked No. 6—play as good a game against Michigan State at East Lansing as they did against Oklahoma?

"The players will be as anxious to win," said Leahy, "They will be mentally ready. They remember last year's defeat. But I do not see how they possibly can be as high despite their desire. And I feel certain from long experience that they cannot be as well prepared physically."

Illinois Boy Wonder Is State's Youngest Governor Since 1883

By FRANK CORMIER
CHICAGO (AP)—William G. Stratton, aging "boy wonder" of Illinois politics, still can lay claim to being the state's youngest governor-elect since 1883.

Stratton, 38, brought a long political record into his successful campaign against Lt. Gov. Sherwood Dixon who was Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson's personal choice for the office.

In 1940, at 26, Stratton was labeled the "boy wonder" when elected congressman-at-large. He stood then with the Republican non-interventionists. Today he remains close to the conservative wing of the GOP.

No Tax Increase

Now state treasurer, Stratton says he has "a number of bills in mind" for presentation to the next legislature, meeting in January but isn't ready to disclose a detailed program.

He makes one promise: "definitely, there will be no tax increases."

Stratton, incidentally, will receive an annual salary of $25,000—more than twice the amount received by Stevenson. The increase, effective in January, was voted by the 1951 legislature.

Stratton's father, the late William J. Stratton, was a GOP leader and served as Illinois secretary of state from 1928 to 1932. Stratton twice sought the office once held by his father but lost each time—once in the party primary. These were his only defeats in races for statewide office.

In 1946, he won his second term as congressman-at-large, defeating the Democratic incumbent by 365,000 plurality. During World War II Stratton served in the Pacific as a Navy lieutenant.

Stratton has been married twice. He claimed desertion in divorcing his first wife in 1949. He had married her in 1934 after his graduation from the University of Arizona. He
